C Drive with Sam Rufus, Online workshop on 'Creative Thinking'

28-01-2021 to 30-01-2021

REPORT

C Drive with Sam Rufus

Day 1
28 January, 2021

C Drive with Sam Rufus, a three day long online workshop on 'Creative Thinking' was organized by the Department of Mass Communication and Journalism, Tezpur University from 28 January, 2021 to 30 January, 2021. It was aimed at encouraging creative thinking practices among students and was attended by the students of both Mass Communication and Journalism as well as students of Communication for Development course.

Mr. Sam Rufus, founder director of EPIC (Enriching People in Creativity) introduced himself as a 'Learning Person', which in itself spoke volume about his experience and creativity. He started the session by unfolding the word 'Fundamental', where he guided the students to move beyond the idea of seeing 'fundamental' as 'basic', instead focused on it being viewed as something 'essential'. It was followed by the topic 'Why Creative Thinking is essential?'. He also said that we need to 'look through our ears and hear through our eyes' in the quest for creativity. Further, he explained every topic in a very creative and interactive manner, supported by a wonderful PowerPoint presentation.

The next topic of this session was 'What makes our brain tick?', where he explained the students that there is nothing called 'captive audience' and dived into AIDA (Attention, Interest, Desire, Action) plan, which forms the basis of any marketing and advertising strategy. Touching the head, heart and feet of the customer were the three foundational pillars of any strategic planning. He also emphasized on the significance of selling a desire to a consumer and not the product. He stated that "Good is the enemy of great.", when one is satisfied with the status of something being good, they don't strive for the greatest possible outcome. With that in mind, he led the student participants to the 'Black Cylinder exercise'. It was an extremely creative and innovative exercise where the students were asked to think out of the box reasons for 'why did the black cylinder fall?'. This exercise encouraged out of the box thinking and helped the students to indulge in creative thinking. He also talked about the importance of being a 'game changer' in today's competitive market space, where one has to constantly think creatively and see things in a different way than what others normally do. Not being different in Advertising could simply be a virtual suicide.

For the next part of the session, he briefly discussed about the barriers of creative thinking and assigned the next task i.e. "to identify the barriers to creative thinking and find how to breakthrough these barriers". This was a group task where students were directed to different Zoom breakout rooms. Each team discussed and finally gave a presentation based on their discussion on barriers to creative thinking and solutions to these problems. This exercise helped the students to bring all that they learned in the session to practical use. Along with the inputs from the students, Mr. Sam added the following to the list of barriers -Self Imposed Barrier, Victims of habit, Anemic Thinking, Easy Satisfaction and World of excuses .

The session was well planned and students were given stretch breaks to sink in what was discussed. The students were also given a post session activity-

For MA MCJ students, they had to identify a product/service presently being advertised and discuss what aspects of its campaign they found CREATIVE. And find what MEDIA has been used effectively.

(4 Groups had to make a 15 minute presentation each on the findings on Day 2.)

For MA C4D students, they had to identify a Social Issue campaign presently being advertised and discuss what aspects of the campaign did they find CREATIVE. And find what MEDIA has been used effectively?

(2 Groups had to make a 15 minute presentation each on the findings on Day 2.)

At last, he also took questions from the students and also enlightened them with his experience. He shared his experience of working with Nestlé's Milkmaid product , and gave the students some valuable insights on the game changing journey of Milkmaid.

DAY – 2

29 January, 2021

Mr. Sam Rufus , an excellent communicator and a creative thinker , began the 'day 2' with the powerful line- 'You can't think creatively , if you can't see things differently'. The first half was spent productively on the presentations of the student participants, who presented their own selection of advertisements/social issue campaign that they found attractive and considered highly creative. Made into 6 teams , the students turn by turn presented a range of advertisements and spoke extensively on the creative rendition, emotion and visuals of the selected advertisement . In the second half, after a quick revision of the lessons learned in day 1, he delved deeper into the concept of 'Creativity'. With the help of a box , he explained how conventional way of thinking limited our ideas only to the box and the untapped potential of creative thinking existed only outside that box. He urged the students to tap into the world that existed outside their boxes of conventional thoughts and ideas , and to think out of the box.

He also emphasized on why creative thinking is essential and how creative thinking is just another name for problem solving. He went on to explain how the problem solvers are actually the greatest creative thinkers, and a creative approach to any problem is essential to all. Elaborating on the three stages of creative thinking , he described Divergence, Convergence and Emergence as the three stages in the process, whereby the beginning happens by diverging into a world of concepts and new ideas followed by convergence, where bundle of concepts are funneled down to a few, and finally we arrive at Emergence, where we get the final outcome of the creative thinking process.

After taking different viewpoints from the students on creative thinking, he explained how creative thinking is done . Simply knowing the importance of creative thinking wasn't enough, students had to know the process to undertake to think creatively . That is when he began discussing about the 'Thinking Hats' , which serves as a team based problem solving and brainstorming technique that can be used to explore problems, solutions and uncover creative ideas which are usually overlooked by others. Speaking on the 'White Hat' Thinking, he emphasized on the importance of prior research before starting with any project. Asking basic questions like ' What information do we have ?, What information is missing ?, What information would we like to add ,etc. The 'Green Hat' on the other hand required creative effort. It dealt with the conception of new and alternative ideas. The 'Black Hat' or the 'caution hat' represented the criticism against any idea or concept. Its main function is to critically analyze the proposed idea and prevent any mistake from happening. The last hat that Mr. Sam Rufus discussed was the ' Yellow Hat', which stood for optimism and looked into the ways through which the conceived idea could succeed.

'Why not?' as described by Sam Rufus serves the basis of disruptive thinking. A way of thinking which moves beyond the normally constructed way of thinking.

Further on ' Briefing and Game Planning' , the class learned what a creative brief stood for and how one could ask the '6 intrusive questions' while preparing a brief to make it effective . The questions are-

1. Where are we ?
2. Why are we where we are ?
3. Where do we wish to be ?
4. Why do we wish to be where we wish to be ?
5. How shall we get there ?
6. How soon shall we get there ?

These questions help in creating a proper client brief which positively effects the process of strategic planning for marketing and advertising. He ended the seminar by giving a project on marketing and adverting plan for the Mass Communication students and a strategic plan for social communication project for the Communication for Development students.

DAY 3

30 January, 2021

On the final day of the workshop, the students used the knowledge acquired from the previous days of the workshop to create new ideas and projects that didn't necessarily follow any textbook knowledge. The students of Communication for Development began the presentations, where one group developed a Communication plan to launch "Education for skill. Skill for Earning" for the State of Assam and the other group discussed the idea of developing a communication plan to set up “Cooperative of Weavers for direct marketing of Assam silk to Fashion designers and High-end customers.” While the Mass communication students were split into two parts, two groups presented the marketing and advertising plan of a fruit juice and the other two on the marketing and advertising plan of a new innovative safety product against COVID 19. By performing a black hat thinking activity after every presentation, Mr. Sam Rufus gave valuable remarks on each of the presentation. The students were also encouraged to analyze and criticize the other projects. As the workshop approached the end, Mr. Sam Rufus concluded it with some fundamental ideas and concepts that he wanted to leave the students with. He spoke on how great advertising is a dialogue with the people, where a customer can be static but a consumer is a person with humanly qualities. He also quoted some great creative and communication experts and delved upon the effectiveness of a communication, which is not necessarily defined by the communication process but by the response. Creative thinking and creative innovation could even lead to migration of markets. He specifically emphasized on understanding that creative thinking alone was not enough, but an attitude towards problem solving and connecting dots was extremely crucial. Finally, the coordinator of the workshop Dr. Anjuman Borah presented her vote of thanks to Mr. Sam Rufus and also to the students for making this seminar into a highly interactive and productive event.

‘As a participant of the C Drive workshop, I feel this was an excellent workshop which enlightened us and cleared our doubts as well. It enriched us with the essence of creative thinking. I would like to thank MCI department, TU for this wonderful initiative.’ -Anubhuti Dutta, student of MA MCI, TU

‘It was an insightful event that encouraged us to think critically and present our ideas creatively. I extend my heartfelt thanks to the department and Sam sir for making this possible. I am sure I will benefit from this seminar in the years to come.’ -Hemasri Mishra, student of MA C4D, TU

‘While everyone emphasizes on the need to think creatively, Sam Sir showed us the path to be able to think creatively.’ -Akanshya Bhagabati, student of MA MCI, TU

Online lecture series Digi Dialogues

09-02-2021 to 12-02-2021

Workshop on Social Media and Marketing

By Pulak Sharma

Date: 9-12th February

Time: 12:00-1:00 pm

Duration- 4 days

Platform: Zoom Meeting

DAY 1

First day of Digi-Dialogues, an advertising workshop hosted by a well experienced advertising expert named Pulak Sharma started with the introduction of digital marketing or say social media marketing. It began with a brief detail about digital evolution i.e. how rapidly usage of smartphones grew from the launch of first cellphone. Digital media has transformed in such a massive way that passing a new checkpoint didn't get time to celebrate. Launch of Linked-in in 2003, Facebook in 2004, YouTube in 2005, Instagram in 2010 and more such creative internet application were observed as the production of one time. Such remarkable developments in digital field are also backed by another study which further differentiate among the years taken by companies' to reach the consumer base of 50 millions. In this research, it has been founded that airline companies took almost 50 years to attain the consumer base of 50 millions whereas PokemonGo (an online gaming application) took only 19 days to attain such height. In addition to this information, today more than 59% of world's population uses internet and more than 53% is active on social media. The numbers are still growing around the globe with a faster rate of increase. After establishing more such facts, the workshop went into how this huge user base is getting converted into a hub of marketers. Further, Mr. Pulak made awarded about the transition towards 3Vs (Vernacular, Voice, Video) from the traditional advertising approach of 4Ps. On the basis of some growing demands of consumers i.e. comfort, connection and pursuance these 3Vs are being proven the most useful catalyst to win the users or to convert the users into customers in the world of social media. Reaching towards end, he discussed about the major growth drivers of social media like mobile phones, vernacular users, social conditions etc. He also briefly explained the aspects on which digital marketing is based i.e. Performance, branding, social and content. The first day concluded with the study of the role of Consumer Funnel in Digital Marketing.

Digi Dialogues

Day 2

Date: 10/02/2021

Report:

The second day of lecture series on the topic Digi Dialogues by Pulak Sharma, started around 12:15 pm. The lecture started with the introduction of Performance Marketing. It is one of the aspects of digital marketing and it is number driven. Performance marketing is all about sales, leads which are the potential prospects, traffic which is the number of visitors who come to a website, and app downloads. It is about paying for results that can be directly attributed. Then the discussion moves forward to the topic of Performance Marketing Areas. Performance marketing ensures three things tracking, monitoring and controlling. Affiliate marketing, social media, display media, SEA, SEO, couponing and E-mail marketing, these are the areas of performance marketing. Display media are the banner ads. SEA/SEM stands for search engine marketing, the information which is shown to us when we search for a particular product/service keyword. SEO is search engine optimization. Couponing means giving away of coupons containing discounts. E-mail marketing is a cost-effective way of doing performance marketing. Social media including FB, WhatsApp etc.

Affiliate marketing is similar to E-mail marketing based on data collection of the users or potential users. Majority of the performance marketing happens through search which is controlled by Google and Bing. A lot of performance marketing happens on FB, it is the second largest advertising platform. The largest is Google. Then there is display which is largely controlled by Google. Important terminologies are; Traffic – website visitors, CPC – cost per click, CPL – cost per lead, CPV – cost per view, CPD – cost per download, CPA - cost per acquisition.

Then the discussion solely focuses on SEM – search engine marketing. It works on a Keyboard based bidding model. Google and Bing are the largest search engines. Bing is owned by Microsoft. Google owns about 90% of the searches that happens across the world followed by Bing at roughly 8%. The advertisers will pay Google to show their ads. Whatever we type in a search box are known as search terms. The words that we type are called keywords. Whichever results show up if 'ad' is mentioned at the top of any result that means that the advertisement is paid. Other results can be called as the organic results which are usually non paid form ads. The advertisers have to win the bidding for the top spots while searched for those keywords related to the advertisements. The lecture continues to further discuss SEO, which is search engine optimization. SEO is smart compared to SEM and doesn't pay Google. For SEO a lot of content optimization has to be done. The best content optimized result will be selected and recognized by Google and be given the top spot while searched upon. For understanding SEO, three R's are important, namely Reputation, Relevance and Recognition. Google has a software called crawler/spider, every hour this program crawls and reads through all the websites in the world. Based on the readings, crawler ranks those websites and that is how Google shows us the result. If a result is on the top spot that means the crawler has found the website best in terms of the 3R's. Reputation is built over the years. People writing reviews also affect the reputation. The content in the website have to relevant. The website has to be recognized. Recognition happens through reviews and the mention of the website in other websites. After this the lecture moves on to the topic of display marketing. Any websites have smaller ads known as the display ads. Google has bonded with around 80% of the websites in the world. Google has bought the ad spaces from them and pays them in terms of the visitors it sends to each website. This is the Google display network. The discussion then shifts to the topic of remarketing. When an individual moves from one website to another website, the same ads are again present on the latter websites. This is called remarketing. Most of the websites asks for the individual's permission. There is a privacy policy that needs to be accepted. Accepting the privacy policy, the individual is identified in terms of his/her choices and gets tagged. Hence the website now contains and stores the behavioral information of the individual. The session finally comes to an end at around 1:25 pm.

Day 3: Digi Drive

Topic: Social media marketing

Time : 12-1:00 pm

Platform: Zoom drive

The workshop was started with a question by Pulak Sharma, who compared the popularity of different forms of social media, taking YouTube and Facebook as the primary examples. He asked the students about their opinion on the comparative popularity of these media platforms. He then described the scope of YouTube as a broadcast medium, which was followed by stats. Focus was given on the measuring impact and exposure measuring aspects of these medium on the audience which revolved around topics such as reach and engagements.

Facebook being the largest media platform for engagement has infinite scope. The emergence of local platforms such as KOO as an alternative of Twitter gives rise to regionalism. These platforms gives in scope for various local language which results in more participation. Native languages and regionalism is fuelling such local apps and as communicators it is our role to understand it's importance.

The workshop then proceeded to understand platforms based on time spent and perspectives.

Facebook and WhatsApp leading in this scenario, WhatsApp had introduced a new payment form and brands are adapting to WhatsApp as a new medium of one to one communication. This is because of its effectiveness. Moreover WhatsApp is quick and provides a personalized touch. Brands such as make my trip have started to venture in this platform. WhatsApp was bought by Facebook around six seven years back for 19 billion USD.

All apps are constantly improved first. The aspect of monetization comes in late. The age group ranging from 16-54 years are usually active on social media. India dominates this scene. Answering to the question if a student, Pulak Sharma introduced the monetization of WhatsApp. He stated that WhatsApp is monetizing through brands and charging license fee.

Brands are incredibly using Facebook and other social media to reach out it's customers. One can now search for the brand in any social media especially Facebook before purchasing a product. Thus, brand research on social media is emerging and flourishing. Businesses too use social media for brand research. The demographic of Facebook allows more flexibility to the brand's.

Social media can also be used as a method of brand discovery. One can be exposed to new products through these ads. As communicators one must have a content strategy, as to what to produce and when. This growth is due to various factors, the first side being the consumer side. Social networking allows connectivity, it lends us a strong platform of voice and expression. It provides a sense of self worth and entertainment.

An advertiser spends time on social media due to factors such as size of audience, the sticky characteristics of audience and the time spending nature on social media. It also helps in the precise targeting opportunities and the virality factor is content. Consumer needs and brand needs are perfectly intertwined here.

Some social networking platforms such as YouTube, Facebook, Twitter, Instagram have now become an integral part of the consumer mind-set. Social media helps spark a conversation through campaigns and spark discussion and debated. It can create awareness about a brand, product or service; leading to the consideration of such brands, products and services. This can be done deploying influencers etc. An example of a case study was given #DRIVELIKEALADY by Kodak for car insurance. This campaign comes with an embedded social message and is backed by statistics. This campaign consisted of real life human stories of achievement of ordinary people. The campaign was divided into three parts Head (emotional aspect), Heart (connectivity with audience aspect) and Hand (incentives for target consumers). Examples of Twitter campaign which can be used for the advantage of brands were given. Leverage of each medium for the brand's was emphasized upon.

In conclusion focus was given on the creation and maintenance of brand images. A brand image must always be free from scandals and must not do anything that would hurt the sentiments of it's consumers. The rise of internet connectivity can also result in trolling of the brand, this is where Online Reputation Management branch of brands come in. They communicate with the leads and consumers.

ORM branch should be creative and constantly analysing and monitoring to identify new leads.

The workshop then ended with a question round by the students to Pulak Sharma, who addressed their doors and queries.

Day 4 – Digi Dialogue

Date - 12th January

Time – 12am to 1pm

Workshop on Social media marketing

By Pulak Sharmah

On 12th January at 12 am, students of MCJ and C4D participated in the 4th day of Digi Dialogue by Pulak Sharmah, Media Manager at Kotak Mahindra. On virtual platform Zoom, Mrs Anjuman welcomed the guest speaker to the department of mass communication and journalism at Tezpur university.

Event brief by the guest Speaker:-

Social media platforms details

Advantages and disadvantages of social media platforms

Demo for setting up page

Analyzing a web page's growth and data

The workshop started by showing the cover page of 'The Guardian Weekly' a magazine which is a leading publication. Mr. Pulak asked the participants 'what's special about the cover page? The cover contained the picture of Jeff bezoz which the logo of Amazon painted with his smile, many participants replied with enthusiasm.

After the kick start of the workshop, he started with the topic social media management, which is the key to find the right platform for instant in the movie 'Dear Zindagi' the question arises, Have you ever bought a chair? Finding the right chair is very important similarly finding the right platform for message/advertisement is Important.

Facebook: one should have an active content strategy regarding what he /she is going to talk about? How frequently will he/she talk? The strategy must be clear before setting up any page on social media. Small businesses are coming to Facebook, almost all brands are there, Food, Travel, E-commerce, are some of the biggest categories. Facebook has:-

Good Audience Reach

Better Engagement

Visual Appeal

Storytelling

Precise Targeting

Shareable

Low Investment

Example - On Television you have 30 second to tell your message which cost you around 30 lakh but on social media you will get more time with less money.

Instagram: it is a visual experiential platform where attractive filters catch the attention of users. Instagram provides good exposure for personal branding and Influencers. It is extremely popular among home businesses and visual bloggers.

Further the workshop proceeded with the Case study on 'Facebook Thumbstopper' a new property in vertical form in which a 10 sec video will be uploaded by brands and directors like Prakash Verma, Kiran rao, Kotak and many more contested from across India. The idea was to promote a shorter vertical format of video as the user time span is decreasing day by day. The thumb stopper stories were highly creative and engaging; the participants interacted while explaining each one of them and discussed the idea of it.

Youtube : one of the biggest advertising platforms in terms of money earner. Brands are increasingly using it as a broadcast medium and a good replacement of television. The platform could be used as a content repository for all the users and creators. Youtube promotes their key influencers by annual events. It has:-

High Audience Reach

High Visual Appeal

Engagement

Precise Targeting

Low Investment For Entries

The information aroused the curiosity of the participants, Bishal asked the Question about the money advertisers get on uploading their advertisement as youtube works on views, like and subscribe. The participants get to know that the channel is under the brand category where youtube don't pay the advertisers.

Twitter – Is more of ORM Hygiene of brands, it is good for announcement, thought leadership of individual and personal branding. It is also being used by brands for customer service purpose and reputation management. The platform provides:-

Intellectual appeal

Conversational

Engagement

Linkden: is a platform with good targeting opportunity for corporates, employers branding and highlighting employers in good light is been done of Linkden. Recruitment demands and freelancers are major content creators here. Mostly used by good employers, universities, college, courses, etc to built in their image around professionals.

Professional imagery

Intellectual appeal

Precise targeting

The session further proceeded with the live facebook page of Mr. Pulak which is his own travel and food page 'tummies on tour'. He had given the live example of how to promote a post, select the target audience, the location and interest of the TA, and their age group. He stated that the broader the location will be the more people will get to target. More text on the image will be disapproved by FB to advertise as they have their own protocols for the advertisers.

He further took the participants into the insight growth of his page, which shows how to check audience, it shows how many people visited your page, liked it, and reached to it and other post engagement. After all It is all about engagement on the page not the followers, he explained with the example of a singer Badsha, he had many followers but later exposed that they were fake. The key learning was the more you interact the more your post will be shown to the people. This is how social media earns money. Without paying, a brand could only reach only 2% of its followers but after paying, it could reach 29 to 30%.

'Create good content not followers' he stated.

The workshop ended with some questions asked by the participants, which is 'If on posting something one of your friends does not get your notification, is it a glitch or FB purposefully does it? It's all about engagements, to whom you are interacting frequently will get notified, others won't. Mr. Pulak answered.

The session concluded with gratitude and Thanks from all the participants for organizing such a workshop.
