Highpoints of the mentoring session

Semester I: 2019 Autumn Semester (July-December)

Issues related academic performance and selection of topics for M Tech projects were taken for discussion and students appeared to be benefitted by mentoring sessions.

Semester II: 2020 Spring Semester (January-August)

The advisories related to covid protocols (pandemic started in the early part of the Semester) have been the major issues of discussion. The issues related to on-line teaching-learning, which begun after the students left the campus, were discussed resolved.

Highpoints of the mentoring session

Semester I: 2019 Autumn Semester

Students were called in alternate day after the class time and discussed about their all round development including academic progress, accommodation in hostels and enquiring about their personal problems if they were faced any. They did not mention any specific problem faced by them. But, they were advised to keep up with good health and to study hard for academic excellence.

Semester II: 2020 Spring Semester

As no specific problem was reported by students, they were advised to spend more time in their studies. They were advised to approach their respective class teachers if anything was not clear in the class.

Highpoints of the mentoring session

Semester I: 2019 Autumn Semester

We had several meetings during the semester. Both the students shared some of their issues ranging from food in the hostel, some common health problems, issues regarding the some hard topics of the programme, social adjustment among their friends etc. Students were mentored in a friendly environment, and they were encouraged to get themselves involved in various activities like games, yoga etc. during their free time.

Semester II: 2020 Spring Semester

In this semester also, there were several rounds of meetings specially after the onset of the pandemic. Students had to go home and work from home. Initially there were some confusions regarding the completion of the research projects. Students were mentored to remain vigilant about their health and hygiene in view of the pandemic.

Highpoints of the mentoring session

Semester I: 2019 Autumn Semester

The students did not report any notable points during the mentoring sessions. They started their projects, and it was all going well.

Semester II: 2020 Spring Semester

This semester was quite difficult time for the students. The university was suddenly declared "closed" due to the Corona Virus pandemic from Mar 25, 2020. They mainly complained about the difficulty they faced to perform the experiments related to their projects. Later the semester was extended to give them ample time to complete their final semester projects.

Highpoints of the mentoring session

Semester I: 2020 Autumn Semester

I had interaction with all the three students several times during the semester. The students shared some of their issues and we discussed those in a very cordial and friendly manner. Students were encouraged to do hard work. Further, their involvement in extra-curricular activities were also discussed. The students were seeming to be much worried about the scenario of jobs after their studies. We discussed on this aspect, and I tried to impress upon the students to prepare themselves with all latest knowledge and skills of the subject.

Semester II: 2021 Spring Semester

In this semester also, we met several times on different occasions. Discussions were on issues like hard topics of some of the courses, semester-end results, topic selection for research, and some personal problems. All the issues were discussed in a friendly atmosphere.

Highpoints of the mentoring session

Semester I: 2020 Autumn Semester

During the Autumn 2020 semester, the classes were conducted online. The mentees were contacted over telephone and vice-versa. The issues related to academic and mental health were discussed over telephone. Technical issues related to the online classes were also discussed. Mentees were encouraged to go through different online videos from the trusted sources to clear the concept on the different energy related topics. Mentees were advised to follow the COVID-19 protocols to be safe and to help people around. Mentees were concerned about the laboratory classes. They were assured that the laboratory classes will be taken care as the situation improves.

Semester II: 2021 Spring Semester

The Spring 2021 semester started with the online classes. During this semester the mentor-mentee meeting was held over telephone. To discuss the issues of academic and project related matters mentee used to call the mentor. The mentor used to call mentees to motivate them to carry on academic affairs sincerely during the difficult pandemic time. Mentees were suggested to choose their project carefully considering their interest and background knowledge. They were encouraged to go through some literature (journal papers) before deciding their project topic/area. Mentees were worried of the X-grade in laboratory classes of Autumn 2020. They were informed that the courses will be offered in this semester or in the next semester subject to the approval of the concern authority.

Highpoints of the mentoring session

Semester I: 2020 Autumn Semester

Both the students were facing some problem in online mode of teaching, particularly in the courses which were not relevant to their BTech discipline. They have reported that they were finding it uneasy to understand the basics of EN561 and EN564. I urge them go through the e-notes and references provided by the respective teachers. They were also advised to go for additional classes dedicated for slow learners.

Semester II: 2021 Spring Semester

The students did not report any difficulty faced during the semester. We discussed about their projects that they have to do in 3rd and 4th semesters.
