1 st March,2019 Tezpur University: NSS organised a special Campaign for promotion of sanitation and hygiene, in the light of the Swacch Bharat mission, that has brought a radical change in the mentality of our masses. Cleanliness is mostly a personal affair. It can be spread through initiative and by inculcating a sensed of social responsibility. The program involved first and second year students. Following the message sent to us the previous day, we all gathered at the Tezpur University gate at around 10:30 AM, with five brooms in total. Volunteers were divided into four groups. We started at 11 am sharp, and took to different locations near the gate, with one group campaigning in one area. The main focus was given on the shops outside the campus. Almost every shop was covered. The program ended with the serving of refreshments to the volunteers at around 12 pm noon.

7. Summary of the event:

The Fit India Movement is aimed to popularize the culture of sports and fitness in the country. It encourages people to prioritize fitness in their day-to-day lives. It will help people to think and steal some time for themselves. The more people will try to keep themselves healthy the more they will stay fit and, in this way, the less they will feel sick and we will become a healthy nation. A healthy person can perform well in many ways, they can work for extra hours, they stay active for a long time, and their performance differs from others. So, it is beneficial in many ways. There are many ways of keeping yourself fit, it can be sports, exercise, and many of us love playing but due to our busy schedule we never go on the ground. Thanks to the Fit India movement, many offices have started organizing weekly sports events and some of them have also opened a gym in the office premises for their staff. Health is the biggest bank balance, and once it is over no one can refill it, so it's better to invest a few hours on health every day. People are understanding this and trying to manage some time for it.

This event is conducted by NSS CELL TEZPUR UNIVERSITY. The number of volunteers participated are 341. The event was conducted under the guidance of program coordinator Dr Amiya Kumar Das. This went on online mode where everyone came across how fitness is important in ones daily life.

7. Summary of the event:

Cleanliness refers to the art of keeping our body, mind, house, work area, and surroundings clean. We can divide cleanliness into various types such as cleaning clothes, cleaning streets, clean surroundings, clean homes, and personal cleanliness. We should make cleanliness our habit because the cleanliness of our surroundings, environment, and self is essential for social and intellectual health. We should never compromise with cleanliness. Cleanliness is not others' responsibility. It is our responsibility.

The NSS cell of Tezpur university held the 'Gandagi Mukt Bharat' event on the 18th of August, 2020 to make its volunteers aware of the importance of a clean surrounding in our lives. 315 volunteers participated in the event. The volunteers had to clean their homes, clean any surrounding building, shramdaan in any nearby building work like helping masons or painters or sweepers, planting saplings, clean nearby streets, etc. The volunteers had to send in photographs of them helping in any of such cleanliness work. The event was conducted under the guidance of the Program Coordinator of NSS Dr. Amiya Kumar Das.

This event was conducted keeping in view and to promote the mantra of 'Na Zindagi karenge, Na karne denge.' A clean surrounding leads to a clear heart and a clear heart leads to a pure soul. Cleanliness is next to Godliness. Clean surroundings help us to be healthy and sound. It's our foremost duty to keep our environment clean and healthy. We can do so by actively participating more in such cleanliness drives in our locality or home and the drives like Swacch Bharat Abhiyan.

She said that it's a universal matter and this social crisis has affected women's health as women are not getting the required medical attention. The 2nd part of the discussion is about the action approach as how the public health organization has looked at the health issues of the women in the last four months crisis period.

Dr. Sunita Gogoi Hazarika, Gynaecologist,Tezpur acknowledged the crisis affecting the health of the people. She focused on some of her field experiences during lockdown referring five cases related to women's health. Dr.Sunita talked about how pregnant women are suffering due to lockdown as they cannot avail supplements and routine checkups. She mentions a case where a woman could not get her routine check-ups and supplements and comes in emergency due to pain and delivers a premature baby who dies and later the mother suffers cardiac failure. She mentioned about cases where new born babies died due to missed vaccines and heath checkup. There are numerous cases where women are reported to have suffered with health issues and suffer more due to delay in treatment as they are dependent on others instead of directly contacting the health workers. Dr. Gogoi talked about the ratio of women suffering during the crisis and concluded by saying that women should directly contact the health workers.

Couple of questions was raised by the participants who were answered by the speaker.

Dr. Rajiv Sharma,Additonal Director Health Service. Dr.Sharma stated this Covid-19 as natural disaster that is affecting the entire world from children to elder people. 7. Summary of the event: The Tezpur University National Service Scheme cell has conducted a awareness programme on child education under the able guidance of Program Coordinator Dr. Amiya Kumar Das. The webinar was conducted on 27th march,2021 on the topic child education. It was a very interesting event. Because, Education is a powerful tool for breaking the cycle of poverty; supporting child survival, growth, development and well-being; and closing the gap in social inequality. On average, one additional year of education can increase an individual's earnings by 10 per cent. Knowledge in hygiene and disease prevention can greatly reduce the number of preventable deaths. Furthermore, girls' education is particularly impactful for future generations: children of educated mothers are much more likely to go to school than children of mothers with little or no education. It was a great event where the speakers has pointed out many important aspects of child education related problems which can be only prevented if we change our mindset and give our child an environment of full of opportunity to grow in their life. As a result, it will boost our country economically as well as socially.

7. Summary of the event:

An anti drug counseling was held by the National Service Scheme of Tezpur University on 26th August,2019 at Naam Ghar in Naapam village. This program was held with a foresight to spread awareness to the native people of the village about the negative effects of drug addiction and its consequences and to build up a drug abuse free society and eradication of drug abuse to ensure a happy, peaceful and prosperous society.
The volunteers of the National Service Scheme left the University at around 9:30am and it took them 15 minutes to reach the venue. After reaching the venue they revisited the houses of the villagers before the start of the program just to remind them about the program and to let them know when it's starting. The volunteers had already informed them about the program a day before so that the villagers can manage their time and make their way to the program.

After this the volunteers arranged all the necessary resources for the conduction of the program such as posters, microphones and speakers.

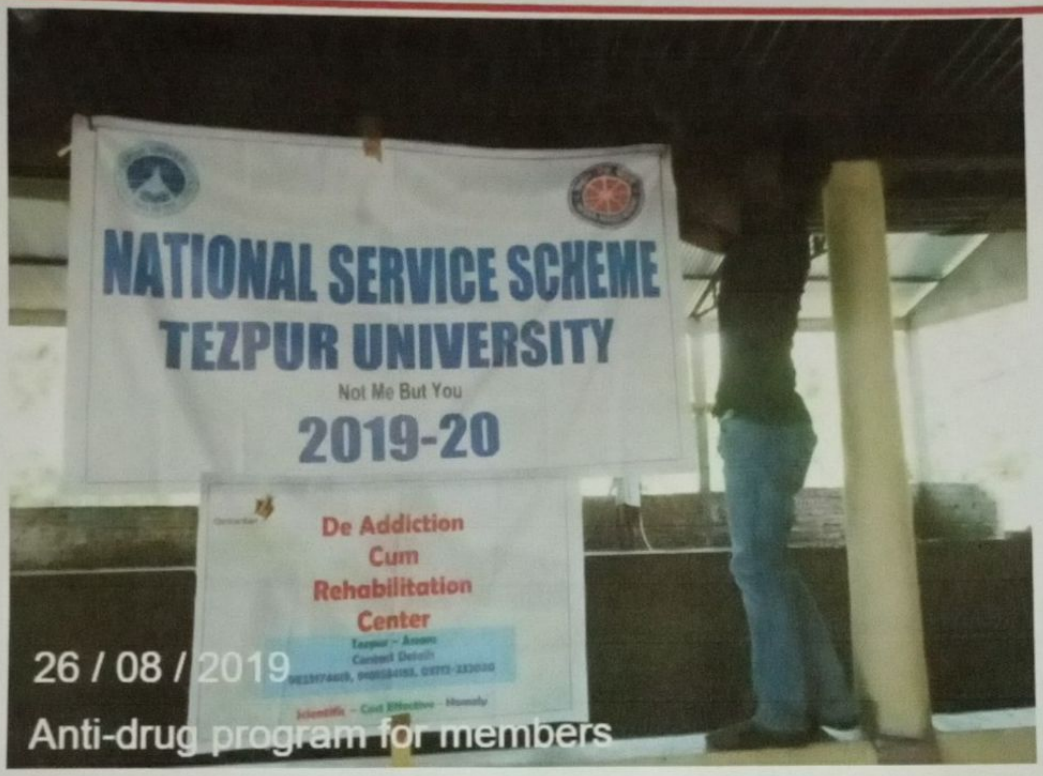

The program started at around 10:30am when the chief spokesperson of the Anti Drug program arrived, Dr. Dilip. It was a 2 hours session where Dr. Dilip gave a speech about the negative effects of drug addiction and also gave them solutions on how to prevent the use of drugs and how to get rid of drug addiction.

His insights gave the villagers a motive to give up their addiction of drug and tobacco. After that, an interactive session was also held where the people asked him questions related to their addiction problems and he gave them proper solutions.

After the 2 hours session, attendance was taken and pamphlets were given to the people present there which had the details about the negative effects of drug addiction and the consequences of drug addcition.
After distributing the pamphlets, Refreshments were served to everyone and the program came to an end by 12:30pm. The volunteers packed up everything and returned back to the university at around 1:30pm.
The program was a huge success as it was able to sensitize the people about the negative impact that drugs on the society and provided insights to the people to give up their addiction.

7. Summary of the event:

   At a time when more and more youths are getting drawn towards this extreme evil, the NSS volunteers of Tezpur University carried out a survey on Anti-Drugs Awareness in the neighbouring villages. This survey saw around 20 volunteers, who eagerly participated in this event with full dedication.

   This group of volunteers gathered in the Community Hall of our Campus at sharp 9:00 AM in the morning. They were divided into groups of multiple members each. The volunteers were given an overall idea of what drugs is, how does drugs harm our body and social life, what are the necessary precautions to take regarding it and how to tackle the problem. Then, a speech on the rules and regulations for the event was delivered to them. They were also advised on how to approach the villagers, what are the questions to be asked, what are the areas needed to be focused and on how to conduct the survey.

   The local shops are a hub of tobacco, cigarettes, gutka and other such consumable evils. So, the volunteers also went on to these shops to raise awareness and to survey about the number of consumers. The Villagers were very supportive throughout the conduction of the survey. They answered willingly to every question that were asked by the volunteers. Such friendly and positive was the scenario that some families also invited the volunteers inside their home. The survey was over by 11:00 AM.

He explained about the harmful effects of tobacco, and howit is one of the reasons why Assam has the highest number of cancer cases in the country. He talked about extreme alcohol dependence and withdrawal symptoms as well. He also educated the gathering about drugs such as dendrite, fevicol, cannabis and even cough syrups, and how they harm an individual. Lastly, he concluded his session with some of his own experience with people addicted to such drugs. This session organized by the N.S.S has helped educate people and create awareness among them so they can be mindful of the adverse effects of drugs and avoid them. Added to that, it also spread awareness on how a person can approach a rehabilitation centre to get rid of such addictions.

RHEES Jhawani Village Cooperative Society Limited

RHEES Jhawani Village Cooperative Society Limited was registered under section number 11 of the Assam Co-operative Societies Act-2007 with registration no. T-6/2016 dated 7th September, 2016. The society seeks to facilitate, coordinate and promote socio-economic development of the villagers residing within the surrounding village of Jhawani through its members and to ameliorate their economic condition. This cooperative society primarily focuses towards access to clean energy for cooking, electricity and livelihood activities. Considering the present energy scenario decentralized power generation from renewable energy resources are not only environment friendly but also more effective compared to conventional sources. The cooperative society will operate, manage and maintain the anaerobic digestion plant for producing clean cooking gas (biogas) and biomass gasification system for electricity generation.

Biogas is expected to be distributed to the households in the Jhawani village which will enable them to cook in clean environment and reduce the drudgery of women for collection of fuelwood. Use of biogas as cooking fuel is expected to save up to 400 kg of fuelwood per day in Jhawani. A decentralized electricity generation facility is also scheduled to be installed to support irrigation, agro-industry and other micro enterprises. Electricity will be supplied to fulfill the domestic requirements for purposes like lighting, television, mobile charging etc. The renewable energy plants are being installed by Tezpur University, IISc Bangalore in collaboration with other institutions in the region. DST (SEED) Govt. of India is the funding agency to install these plants under the research project entitled Rural Hybrid Energy Enterprise Systems.

Activities taken up the Society:

- A community size vermicomposting unit (11 tons per annum) has been installed. Joint training programmes on mushroom production, precision farming, vermicompost production have been imparted to the farmers in the village in association with the co-operative society and Tezpur University
- Black Gram cultivation in 3 bighas using locally produced vermicompost in Jhawani village as a part of RHEES Jhawani Village Co-operative Society objectives was executed. Enhanced crop productivity was observed with locally produced vermicompost as compared to commercial vericompost. As a follow up, the co-operative society has started the 1st batch of 2 tons of vermicompost production. The produced vermicompost is expected to be sold at the prevailing rate
- RHEES Jhawani village co-operative society in support of Tezpur University started cultivating mushroom (Batch I: 150 kg) on a trial basis. An approximate amount of Rs. 7500/- was obtained as profit from this batch. The Society is engaged in production of more batches of mushroom for commercial purpose
- A Milk Processing Workshop for villagers in Jhawani was organized in association with the co-operative society and Tezpur University. The Society members are eager to start entrepreneurial activities regarding preparation and commercialization of milk based products like ghee, paneer.
- Villagers meeting consisting of the society members with Mr. RP Sarmah, Member of Parliament was organized regarding works associated with the village
- On Farm training on “Precision farming and utilization of Bioenergy Byproducts” in association with RHEES Co-operative society, Tezpur University and Horticulture Research Station, Kahikuchi, Guwahati was organized for efficient crop farming
- In association with the co-operative society, the school going children of Jhawani are regularly counseled by Tezpur University students as a part of an outreach activity. A community reading room is also being set up for the Jhawani village

Upcoming activities:

- The 60 cubic meter biogas plant is at the commissioning stage. Cow dung for regular operation of the biogas plant will be purchased from the villagers. In the same time, each household will get the biogas for cooking at a price fixed by the cooperative society through participation of its members. The digested slurry will be further processed to extract the solid and liquid fraction separately. The biogas slurry will be used for vermicompost and mushroom cultivation by the members of the society. The suitable members of the society are to be trained for handling the operation and maintenance of the biogas plant. Enhanced revenue generation and employment generation are expected to be achieved from this avenue.
- Irrigation is an important requirement for better yield which is expected to be fulfilled after the installation of the Biomass Gasification system. By fulfilling the irrigation requirements crop yield will significantly increase owing to more revenue generation. The byproducts of biomass gasification system such as char will be used in the agricultural land to improve its carbon nutrient
- The crop residues which are otherwise unused will also be utilized for energy generation, vermicompost production and mushroom cultivation. These activities will improve the livelihood aspects, revenue generation of the members/villagers significantly

तेजपुर विश्वविद्यालय में "एशियाई जीवन, साहित्य एवं कला में राम" विषयक त्रि-दिवसीय अंतर्राष्ट्रीय संगोष्ठी सम्पन्न

तेजपुर, 23 नवंबर, तेजपुर विश्वविद्यालय के हिन्दी विभाग द्वारा 'एशियाई जीवन, साहित्य एवं कला में राम (पूर्वोत्तर भारत के विशेष संदर्भ में)' विषय पर आयोजित त्रि-दिवसीय अंतर्राष्ट्रीय संगोष्ठी बुधवार को अभूतपूर्व सफलता के साथ सम्पन्न हुई। यह संगोष्ठी अयोध्या शोध संस्थान, अयोध्या, उत्तर प्रदेश तथा हिंदी विभाग, तेजपुर विश्वविद्यालय, तेजपुर, असम के संयुक्त तत्वावधान में एवं वाणी न्यास, नयी दिल्ली के सहयोग से आयोजित की गयी थी। संगोष्ठी के उद्घाटन सत्र में मुख्य अतिथि के रूप में तेजपुर विश्वविद्यालय के कुलपति प्रो. मदन मोहन शर्मा, विशिष्ट अतिथि के रूप में अयोध्या शोध संस्थान के निदेशक योगेंद्र प्रताप सिंह, वाणी न्यास के अध्यक्ष अरुण माहेश्वरी, एकशरण भगवती धर्म के आचार्य श्री दयाल कृष्ण बोरा, उत्तर कमलाबाड़ी सत्र के सत्राधिकार श्री जनार्दनदेव गोस्वामी, हिन्दी विभाग के अध्यक्ष प्रो.अनंत कुमार नाथ, एसोसिएट प्रोफेसर डॉ. सूर्यकांत त्रिपाठी, संगोष्ठी के संयोजक डॉ. अनुशब्द, विभाग की अतिथि अध्यापिका डॉ. चारु गोयल सहित विश्वविद्यालय के विभिन्न विभागों के वरिष्ठ अध्यापकों, देश-विदेश से आए अनेक विद्वानों की गरिमामयी उपस्थिति रही।कार्यक्रम की शुरुआत दीप प्रज्ज्वलन, सरस्वती वंदना एवं स्वागत गीत से हुई।अतिथितियों के सम्मान के बाद डॉ. अनुशब्द की वाणी प्रकाशन, दिल्ली से प्रकाशित तीन पुस्तकों- लोक और शास्त्र: जनजातीय साहित्य, पूर्वोत्तर भारत का जनजातीय साहित्य, कार्टून पत्रकारिता: स्वर और संधान का विमोचन हुआ साथ ही 'शोध सारांशिका' का भी लोकार्पण किया गया।

उद्घाटन समारोह में अपना बीज वक्तव्य रखते हुए डॉ. योगेंद्र प्रताप सिंह ने कहा कि 'राम' केवल हमारी धार्मिक आस्था के आधार नहीं बल्कि हमारे सामाजिक और सांस्कृतिक जीवन के मूल हैं।

मुख्य अतिथि के रूप में अपने वक्तव्य में तेजपुर विश्वविद्यालय के कुलपति महोदय ने कहा कि असम में 'राम' का इतिहास काफी पुराना है और यहाँ के समाज में भी 'राम' के आदर्श की गहरी छाप है।

उदघाटन सत्र में संगोष्ठी का परिचय देते हुए संगोष्ठी के संयोजक डॉ. अनुशब्द ने सबसे पहले तो प्रायोजकों के प्रति का आभार प्रकट करते हुए कहा कि इनके सहयोग के बिना इस संगोष्ठी की परिकल्पना तक संभव नहीं थी। आगे उन्होंने कहा कि भारतीय समाज में 'राम' रोम-रोम में रमे हुए हैं और राम का संबंध किसी धर्म या संप्रदाय विशेष से नहीं है। जहाँ भी मानवीय मूल्य है, मर्यादा है वहाँ राम हैं। आज के सांस्कृतिक विलंबन के दौर में तो राम पर चर्चा-परिचर्चा अपरिहार्य है, अनिवार्य है। अंत में उन्होंने यह भी कहा कि यह संगोष्ठी राम पर कम, रामत्व पर ज्यादा केंद्रित है।

उद्घाटन सत्र के उपरांत पहले दिन कुल तीन समानांतर सत्र आयोजित किए गए,जिसमें विभिन्न प्रतिभागियों ने शोधपरक पत्रों के माध्यम से अपने विचार प्रस्तुत किए।

दूसरे दिन के प्रथम सत्र की अध्यक्षता उत्तर कमलाबाड़ी सत्र के सत्राधिकार श्री जनार्दन देव गोस्वामी जी ने की। इस सत्र में विशिष्ट वक्ता के तौर पर तेजपुर विश्वविद्यालय के संस्कृति अध्ययन विभाग की सहायक प्रवक्ता डॉ. मौसूमी कंदली उपस्थित रहीं। सत्र की अध्यक्षता करते हुए श्री जनार्दन देव गोस्वामी ने सर्वप्रथम 'जय गुरु शंकर' गुरु वंदना से उपस्थित सभासदों का धन्यवाद किया और कहा कि राम एक आदर्श पुरुष हैं तथा मानवीय मूल्यों के स्थापनकर्ता हैं। उन्होंने अपने भाषण में यह भी कहा कि राम को सिर्फ अपने आराध्य भगवान के रूप में न लेकर एक आदर्श के रूप में वर्तमान समय में लिया जाय तो अच्छा होगा। द्वितीय सत्र में विशिष्ट वक्ता के रूप में थाईलैंड की प्रोफेसर चर्या धर्म बून ने अपने वक्तव्य में थाईलैंड में रामकथा की विस्तृति और इसके स्वरूप का विवेचन किया। इसके पश्चात प्रतिभागियों द्वारा शोध पत्रों का पाठ किया गया। इसी सत्र में वाणी न्यास के अध्यक्ष अरुण माहेश्वरी जी ने अपना सारगर्भित वक्तव्य रखते हुए संगोष्ठी की सफलता के पीछे तीन कारण गिनाये- जन जीवन में राम का महत्व, इस संगोष्ठी के आयोजक डॉ. अनुशब्द का परिश्रम एवं देश विदेश से आए सुधीजन। उन्होंने तुलसीदास की रामकथा से लेकर माजुली की मुखौटा कला पर अपना मत दिया और कहा कि धर्म और संस्कृति में अंतर है। अतः यहाँ सांस्कृतिक राम ही विवेचनीय है।डॉ. जोराम आनिया ताना ने अरुणाचल में राम की उपस्थिति पर प्रकाश डाला और बताया कि राम जनमानस में मौखिक रूप में विद्यमान हैं। अपने भाषण के दौरान उन्होंने खामती जनजाति, तावांग निवासी जनजातियों में राम की उपस्थिति पर प्रकाश डाला, साथ ही संगोष्ठी को सांस्कृतिक संदर्भ में महत्वपूर्ण बताया। त्रिपुरा विश्वविद्यालय की मिलन रानी जामतिया ने 'कॉकबरक भाषी लोकजीवन में राम' विषय पर अपना व्याख्यान दिया।

तृतीय सत्र के अध्यक्ष हैदराबाद विश्वविद्यालय के प्रो. गजेंद्र कुमार पाठक ने तुलसी के राम विषय पर चर्चा की। श्रीलंका की आमिला दमयंती ने 'श्रीलंका की मंचीय रामलीला पर' अपने विचार रखे साथ ही वहाँ की प्रचलित नूर्ती नाट्यकला के बारे में विस्तार से समझाया। सभा के समक्ष अपनी मधुर वाणी में इन्होंने रामचरित मानस की कुछ चौपाइयों का गान भी किया। शहीद भगत सिंह कॉलेज, दिल्ली विश्वविद्यालय के डॉ. सुनील तिवारी ने 'भोजपुरी लोकजीवन में राम' विषय पर अपनी बात रखते हुए बताया कि राम का स्वरूप किताबों में जितना दर्ज है उससे कहीं अधिक जीवंत रूप में लोकजीवन में उपस्थित है।

दूसरे दिन के चतुर्थ सत्र के अध्यक्ष के रूप में डॉ सुनील तिवारी एवं वक्ता के रूप में श्री ललित शर्मा जी उपस्थित रहे। श्री ललित शर्मा जी ने छत्तीसगढ़ की स्थापत्य एवं मूर्तिकला में राम विषय पर अपने विचार रखे।

संगोष्ठी के तीसरे दिन के पहले दो सत्रों में शोधपत्रों का पाठ हुआ तथा भोजनावकाश के पश्चात समापन सत्र प्रारम्भ हुआ। समापन सत्र के मुख्य अतिथि के रूप में हमारे बीच उपस्थित रहे दिल्ली विश्वविद्यालय के प्रो. चन्दन कुमार तथा विशिष्ट अतिथि के रूप में तेजपुर विश्वविद्यालय के परीक्षा नियंत्रक डॉ. एल. बोराल और संयुक्त कुलसचिव सभा की गरिमा बढ़ायी। डॉ. बोराल ने कहा कि राम की कथा बहुत प्राचीन है। राम के चरित्र, जीवनशैली का प्रभाव हमारे समाज में बहुत अधिक है। आज समाज में संवेदनाओं की कमी होती जा रही है। ऐसे समय में राम का चरित्र नैतिक पतन की ओर जा रहे समाज के लिए नैतिक स्तम्भ का काम कर रहा है। मुख्य अतिथि के रूप में दिल्ली विश्वविद्यालय के प्रख्यात प्रोफेसर डॉ. चन्दन कुमार कि राम हमारे जीवन के संदर्भ हैं। हम anti-heroism के समय में जी रहे हैं और ऐसे समय में यदि समाज में नायकत्व की संभवना अभी बची हुई है तो राम की वजह से, उनके आदर्शों एवं मूल्यों की वजह से। आगे उन्होंने यह भी कहा कि राम हमारा सपना है। हिन्दी का साहित्यिक जगत तुलसी और राम के बिना पूरा नहीं होता। तुलसी और रामत्व इस सभ्यता के प्रस्थान बिन्दु हैं। पूर्वोत्तर भारत के इस राज्य में ज्ञान का सूरज निकला है और यह संगोष्ठी इस बात का प्रमाण है। अपने से इतर और बेहतर लोगों से संवाद स्थापित करती हैं ऐसी संगोष्ठियाँ। यही इस संगोष्ठी की प्रासंगिकता है। संगोष्ठी का समापन डॉ. चारु गोयल द्वारा रिपोर्ट प्रस्तुति, डॉ. अनुशब्द द्वारा धन्यवाद ज्ञापन के साथ हुआ। अंत में राष्ट्र गान के उपरांत संगोष्ठी के समापन की घोषणा हुई।

Outreach and extension activities in collaboration with CSIR-CIMAP Lucknow and Tezpur University

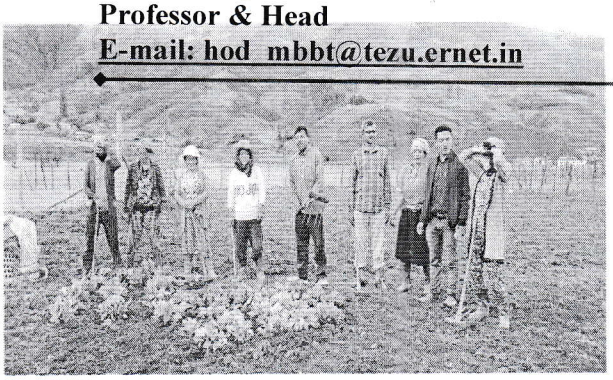

Tezpur University (TU), Assam and CSIR-CIMAP, Lucknow signed MoU on 24th September 2018 to explore and strengthen the academic as well as research collaboration in the frontier areas of biology. A farmer's cluster comprising of 15-30 farmer have been developed to promote large scale cultivation and processing of aromatic crops. TU and CIMAP have jointly conducted the basic soil test parameters of farmer's cluster such as pH, organic carbon (OC), electrical conductivity (EC), nitrogen (N), phosphorous (P) and potassium (K) and GPS data (latitude, longitude, and altitude). TU and CIMAP have conducted a successful multi-location field trials of high value-aromatic crops such as Rose, Lavender, Salvia, Geranium, Chamomile, Lemongrass, Wild marigold, etc among farmers living in border areas of Shi Yomi and West Kameng Districts of Arunachal Pradesh. A clevenger based analysis of oil recovery and yield of some essential oil extracted from the selected aromatic crops such as Salvia and Geranium have been successfully performed. TU in collaboration with the CSIR-CIMAP, CSIR-IHBT Palampur and CSIR-IIIM Jammu have conducted (17 to 19 January 2019) one-day seminar and three-day capacity building workshops to promote awareness on nursery development of aromatic crops and their cultivation sponsored by the North-Eastern Development Finance Corporation Ltd (NEDFi) Guwahati. Under this workshop we have taken some of the selected farmers (seven farmers) to CSIR-IHBT and CSIR-IIIM to make them aware of cultivation practices and nursery development of high-altitude aromatic crops. University is mentoring some of the farmers to register a farmers producer organization (FPO) that would provide further linkage to marketing of aromatic produce and to avail the benefits and facilities of State as well as Central Government sponsored schemes. TU and CIMAP have installed stainless steel field distillation unit (24/09/2020) with cohobation column of 1000 litre capacity in the farmers cluster of Boha Village, Kalaktang, Arunachal Pradesh to enable farmers to extract essential oils of aromatic crops. Some of the photographs taken during the seminar, field visit and related extension activities are provided below.

Report on

Medical Health Camp

Organised by

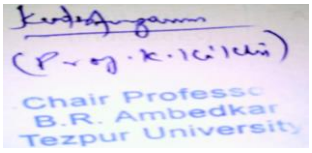

Dr. Ambedkar Chair, Tezpur University
in collaboration with Department of Social Work, Tezpur University

10th November 2019
Venue: Harijan Colony, Tezpur

With an intention to provide access of medical health care and generate awareness towards health among the underprivileged sections of the society, one day medical health camp was organised at Harijan Colony, Tezpur on 10th November 2019 in the premises of Silver Jubilee Primary School, Tribeni. The programme specifically aimed at specializations as general medicine, orthopedics, eye care and dental care for the community people. It was organised by Dr. Ambedkar Chair, Tezpur University in collaboration with the Department of Social Work, Tezpur University. Technical support for this camp was provided by Baptist Christian Hospital, Tezpur and Directorate of Health Service, Assam through team of doctors and stock of medicines respectively.

As per the schedule, programme started at 11:00 a.m. and continued till 4:00 p.m. At the outset, Mr. Syed Parvez Ahmed, Research Scholar, Department of Social Work introduced the aims and objectives of the health camp to the invited doctors and the community. It was followed by felicitation of the doctors by the local ward member Mr. Deep Basfore. The team of medical professionals included Dr. Mathew Cherian (Surgeon), Dr. Sarah Katoholi Shohe (Dentist), Dr. Christina Marie Joseph (Orthopedic), Dr. Rosemary Augustine (Optometrist), Mr. Bikash Gurung & Mr. Geremsa Khakhlari (Community Health Staff), and Mr. Elias Basumatary & Mr. Suren Swargiary (Dental Assistants) from Baptist Christian Hospital. On behalf of the organizers, Dr. D.R. Gautam, Research Officer, Dr. Ambedkar Chair, Tezpur University felicitated the local ward member. This was done in the august presence of Mr. Prasanta Das & Ms. Kabita from Directorate of Health Services, Assam who were instrumental in providing the stock of medicines to conduct this health camp.

In the short span of around five hours, 172 people could benefit from the health camp. There were 39 children beneficiaries in the age group between 0-14 years. Among these children, 13 were female and 26 were male. Apart from children, there were 133 beneficiaries who were above 14 years of age out of which 39 were female and 94 were male beneficiaries. Highest number of patients were related to aspects of general medicine and dermatology indicating less awareness towards hygiene and skin care. This was followed by the patients of eye care, dental care and ortho care. It was observed that people in the locality were having varied eye problems whose association could largely be with their occupation, and less awareness/ability for its care. However, their gradual sight loss due to various eye problems was a concern requiring better treatment. In certain cases, patients were advised for a follow-up towards advanced medical care. In order to facilitate patients in the locality, dedicated team of scholars/students from Department of Social Work and EFL, TU, viz. Ms. Charmi Haque, Ms. Juri Saikia, Ms. Shweta Baruah, Mr. Surajit Das, Mr. Jyoti Prasad Bori, Mr. Parvez Syed, and Ms. Kiran Saikia kept records of few cases that may require further assistance (through NGOs) in accessing certain health care facilities.

It's noteworthy that despite odds as rain, short duration of time, it could draw good response from the community, thanks to the sincere efforts of team from Department of Social Work under faculty member, Dr. Veda Yumnam. The success of the programme in providing basic health care facilities for the needy people was evident in the heartful cooperation and support from all the stakeholders till the end of the event. It is felt that organizing certain health camp in the community premise can benefit the needy section of the society in accessing health care facilities and generating awareness among people. The organisers are thankful to all the stake holders including the nurses (Ms. Ankita Bharali and Ms. Nilakhi Bora) and ASHA workers (Ms. Mariyam Begum, Ms. Sumi Begum, Ms. Najida Begum, Ms. Saleha Begum, and Ms. Tuntun Das) for their active involvement in making the programme successful.

ARSENIC-FREE DRINKING WATER

Assam researchers make low-cost filter

Utpal Parashar
utpal.parashar@htlive.com

GUWAHATI: Residents of Mazgaon village in Assam's Lakhimpur district could do little about the arsenic contaminated water they were forced to drink until a few years back. They found most water purifying machines expensive until they began using a low cost and easy-to-use filter – Arsiron Nilogon.

Researchers at Assam's Tezpur University have developed and patented the filter that removes arsenic and iron from drinking water. It has been making a difference to the lives of thousands of people across the state by providing them access to clean drinking water they did not have until a few years back.

"Six big and small arsenic filters have been set up in our village and nearly 400 people are benefitting from them. Now we are not worried about consuming arsenic with our drinking water," said Deeprupa Bhaktiari, a Mazgaon-resident

The Union science and technology department has acknowledged the method the filter uses. It has been published in national and international journals and was granted patent number 280737 last year.

High amounts of arsenic, a poisonous contaminant that can cause diseases like cancer, have been detected in Assam's 29 of the 33 districts. The World Health Organisation (WHO) recommends a maximum of 10 ppb (part per billion) of arsenic in drinking water. A Tezpur University research found 980 ppb of the carcinogenic agent in a tubewell in Mazgaon.

"Concerned about the situation, we began our research in 2005 to find an easy and cheap solution that would benefit poor people in rural areas," said Tezpur University professor Robin Kumar Dutta.

Dutta and his team tried finding a new method as several existing methods of removing arsenic like reverse osmosis were found to be ineffective for use in rural areas of developing countries due to high cost, use of electricity etc.

Dutta said a Japanese firm has approached them for exclusive rights to produce the filter commercially. "But as that would make the method costly and out of reach of poor people, who we want to benefit, we rejected the offer."

The low-cost filter is able to remove arsenic content. BY ARRANGEMENT

Dutta's team developed the filter in 2010, which involves treatment of contaminated water using small quantities of cooking soda, potassium permanganate and ferric chloride.

The results were impressive. The process was able to remove arsenic content from as high as 1,000 ppb to less than 2 ppb or to the undetectable levels.

"...(The filter) is very effective as, unlike other available methods, it does not use electricity and removes arsenic and other heavy metals at very lost cost," said Manoranjan Nath of Tezpur-based North Eastern Regional Institute of Water and Land Management (NERIWLM).

NERIWLM did the third party technical evaluation of Arsiron Nilogon using various samples of groundwater with high arsenic content (between 500 ppb and 250 ppb). It found the filter was able to bring it down to single digits – below the WHO's recommended levels.

Two 20 litre buckets – one for chemical treatment water and other to be used as a sand gravel filter – are needed to set up a filter unit at home along. A 500-litre unit costs ₹3,700.

For a household unit of 20 litres, one needs to add just 2 gm of cooking soda, nearly 6 drops of potassium permanganate and around 2 ml of ferric chloride. It would cost a user around ₹500 to filter 100,000 litres of water.

"We started taking field trials in 2010. The filter soon became popular and people asked us to set it up for them. Till date, we have set up over 100 filters across Assam, but many more are being set up by users themselves after getting training from us," said Dutta.

A filter unit was set up in Uttar Pradesh's Mirzapur two months ago.

"We have been using the filter to remove arsenic from our drinking water for our family of 24 members. Now many more people in the area want to get such units installed," said Akhilesh Kumar, a school teacher in Mirzapur.

Tackling pollution to provide clean drinking water for all

SOLUTION Experts are trying to develop new, innovative techniques to treat water contaminated with arsenic and fluoride

letters@hindustantimes.com

Not just air, water pollution is also a major concern with most water bodies being used as dumping sites for industrial waste, untreated sewage and even solid waste matter, making water largely unfit for drinking and a health hazard.

Several studies have shown how water pollution remains a global challenge, especially chemical contamination.

A World Bank report, Quality Unkown: The Invisible Water Crisis, released in August this year, using a vast database on water quality, showed it would be nearly impossible to meet the global targets set to save the deteriorating environment by 2030. Failure to meet the targets will eventually have an impact on the overall health, economy, education, and so on, of all countries.

The 193 United Nations (UN) member-states agreed on September 25, 2015 to a 15-year target of 17 sustainable development Goals (SDGs), with 169 targets aimed at helping everyone live healthier, more prosperous lives on a cleaner planet.

SDG 6 refers to clean water and sanitation for all, but the UN World Water Development Report found about three out of 10 people - 2.1 billion - did not have access to safely managed drinking water at home in 2015. India was no different, with many parts of the country reporting water contamination due to arsenic, mercury, cadmium and fluoride, among others.

Arsenic contamination, especially is huge, and was first reported in 1983 from West Bengal. Since then, it has affected at least six other Indian states -- Jharkhand, Bihar and Uttar Pradesh, in the floodplains of the Ganga river; Assam and Manipur in the floodplains of the Brahamaputra and Imphal rivers and Rajnandgaon village in Chhattisgarh, according to the abstract, Groundwater Arsenic Contamination in India: Vulnerability and Scope for Remedy, prepared by experts from the National Institute of Hydrology, Roorkee.

Some experts say it is a problem in the floodplains of all rivers originating from the Himalayas and the Barail range in the northeast.

Arsenic poisoning leads to symptoms such as skin diseases, liver toxicity, heart ailments, destruction of red blood cells, and even cancer.

TACKLING WATER CONTAMINATION

Efforts have been made by various agencies and individual experts in devising ways to ensure safe water supply to the affected population.

Robin Dutta, a professor in the chemical sciences department at Tezpur University in Assam, has been working on a technique to remove arsenic and fluoride from water since 2005, and after five years of work, finally the technique became functional in 2010 and first tested in Assam's Jorhat city, one of the severely affected areas in the state.

The technique was patented in 2017.

"While most other contaminants such as lead, mercury etc. are a man-made problem, arsenic and fluoride contamination is due to natural causes and affects vast areas and larger populations. We developed two methods for removal of arsenic and fluoride that are easy to make and very cheap, which makes it useful at the grassroots level," says Dutta.

People stand in queues to fill vessels with drinking water in Chennai, which suffered from an acute water shortage caused by drying lakes and depleted groundwater, on June 19, 2019. AP FILE

The techniques have been named Arsiron Nilogon (for removal of arsenic) and Fluoride Nilogon (for fluoride removal).

"Arsiron Nilogan is a technique wherein we create a condition that's similar to underground water that doesn't have arsenic by making use of catalysts such as cooking soda, potassium permanganate and ferric (iron) chloride. These are all commonly available chemicals. As a result of the chemical process that takes place by mixing these compounds together, arsenic settles on coagulated ferric chloride and can be removed through filtration technique," says Dutta.

The basic idea behind the technique was to convert a difficult-to-remove form of arsenic to an easy-to-remove form. The cost of using the technique is as low as 1 paisa for filtering one litre of water.

The Fluoride Nilogon technique involved treating water with crushed limestone that absorbs fluoride and phosphoric acid. The contaminant in this case can also be filtered out. The cost is even lower than the arsenic removal technique at 0.4 paise to filter a litre of water.

With support from the department of science and technology for his project, Dutta is already working on expanding the technique to other states such as Bihar and Uttar Pradesh that are also grappling with water contamination.

Dr Kuttanellore Muraleedharan, director of the Council of Scientific and Industrial Research (CSIR)-Central Glass & Ceramic Research Institute (CGCRI), has also worked on filtration techniques that help remove hazardous contaminants from water.

"Be it arsenic, iron or other elements dissolved in water, our ceramic membrane technology is capable of purifying it with good results," he says.

CGCRI experts developed the technology over a decade ago but it picked up only about 5-6 years ago. A filtration plant can be installed at the community level to filter water for as low as 20 paise per litre.

"It can purify everything else apart from the saline contamination for which reverse osmosis (RO) technique is good enough. There have to be slight modifications done before installation based on the type of contaminant in water. The device can stay active for 6-7 years," said Dr Swachchha Majumdar, a researcher at the CGCRI lab who is also part of the team that developed the technology.

The institute has tied up with a manufacturer and takes orders for installation of the plant at its laboratory. "It is our indigenous product and our laboratory takes the orders," he added.

Dr Muraleedharan says, "There is a huge need to come up with innovative techniques for water purification that are affordable for masses at the ground level as water contamination is a major issue in India."

Unique artwork in Xankardeb birthplace

PRANAB KUMAR DAS

Tezpur: Batadrava than (shrine) in Bordowa in Assam's Nagaon district, known for being Xankardeb's birthplace, is also known for its exquisite wood carvings that highlight many interesting facets of Vaishnavite movement led by the saint-reformer.

For many scholars such wood carvings are the "finest specimens of the entire range in the subcontinent". However with the passage of time, some of these have faded and need urgent care.

Professor Robin Kumar Dutta, an expert in traditional dyes and pigments, along with Professor Swapan Kumar Dolui, an expert in adhesives and polymers — both from the department of chemical sciences of Tezpur University — with support from the university administration, are busy restoring the centuries-old priceless life-sized wood carvings of kirtan ghar of Batadrava than to their original look.

They use hengul and haital (vermilion and yellow arsenic) used traditionally in Assam for painting wooden instrument, walls, mukha silpa (mask making) and other pigments. Dutta and Dolui were helped by Naren Kalita, an expert in traditional art forms of Assam.

The statue of gadur pakhi at the shrine in Bordowa.
Picture by Pranab Kumar Das

The work, the first of its kind, was also driven by a broader idea of reviving the unique but dying tradition of painted wood carvings with hengul and haital. The largest wooden sculpture is a gadur pakhi, (a bird found in Hindu mythology) which is about two metres tall and three metres wide. It was painted with hengul haital dated 1833.

There are also another similar but slightly smaller gadur pakhi and two wooden sculptures of Hanuman. Though these wood carvings were painted with traditional pigments, all of these have lost sheen with the passage of time. The older gadur and Hanuman were later painted with synthetic enamel paints.

Resource persons from various places, including Majuli, Nagaon, Tezpur were involved in cleaning the wood carvings, preparation of paints by grinding and mixing with gum of elephant apple and water, application of paint, application of a final thin coat of natural sap (la charowa) in three phases.

Niran Kotoki and Prabin Bora from Auniati xatra, Majuli, applied the final thin coat of sap on the sculptures after Badal Das and Dewan Singh of Tezpur finished artwork.

Chitta Ranjan Bora, Mridu Moucham Bora from Nagaon joined the traditional artistes from Auniati in painting the sculptures.

A Report on

Restoration of Mediaeval Woodcarvings in Traditional Way

Submitted by Robin Kumar Dutta
Professor, Department of Chemical Sciences, Tezpur University

Introduction

There was a tradition in medieval Assam of painting of woodcarvings, mural paintings and illustration of manuscripts, using exquisite traditional mineral pigments, e.g., Hengul (Cinnabar), Haital (yellow orpiment), Kharimati (Kaolinite clay) and herbal pigments, e.g., Neel (Indigo), lamp-black (carbon black), etc.[1,2] However, due to lack of awareness and information these centuries old precious woodcarvings and their paints are fading and wearing out. A large number of such woodcarvings have been repainted with modern synthetic paints destroying their archaeological and antique characteristics due to ignorance.

An initiative was taken by the Department of Chemical Sciences of Tezpur University for restoration of such woodcarvings and by repairing and repainting with traditional Hengul-Haital pigments at Batadrava Than or Bardowa Than in Nagaon District, a leading center of Vaishnavite culture of Assam. Batadrava Than is situated at the birth place of Srimanta Sankaradeva[3] a famous social reformer, Vaishnavite saint, poet, composer and dramatist of 15th-16th century Assam.

Four life-size centuries-old woodcarvings were restored by repairing and painting with in traditional way using Hengul-Haital pigments at the Kirtan Ghar (prayer house) of Batadrava Than during Dec 2017 to Mar 2018. The work was accomplished in the form of a long workshop at the site with hard work of some artists associated with Hengul-Haital in some other ways, some PhD and project students of the Prof. Robin Dutta, Department of Chemical Sciences, Tezpur University. The workshop was conducted by Professor Robin Kumar Dutta with support from Professor Swapan Kumar Dolui on behalf of the Department of Chemical Sciences, Tezpur University and was sponsored generously by Tezpur University. Prof. Madan Sarma (the Vice-chancellor in-charge), Prof. Ranjit Kumar Deva Goswami (Srimanta Sankardev Chair Professor) and Dr. Biren Das, Registrar Tezpur University, were sources of inspiration for the work. Full cooperation was received from Batadrava Than Management Committee. Dr. Naren Kalita, an authority in Traditional woodcarving and illustrated manuscripts was advising for protection of antiquity character of the woodcarving during the restoration.

The case:

The present work was to restore the original looks of these sculptures at Batadrava Than. There are two life size woodcarvings of Garuda Pakhi (a mythological bird) of heights 1.93 and 1.78 meters, and width including feathers of 2.28 and 2.92 meters, respectively; two woodcarvings of Hanumana (a mythological monkey) of heights 1.17 1nd 1.05 meters; two big Asana's (a symbolic curved wooden structures placed in Vaishnavite temples or Namghars where the God is assumed to reside) of dimension (length x width x height) approximately 2.5 meter x 2.5 meter x 2.5 meter and some small wooden tools like Thagi (a device where a manuscript is placed for reading) in the Kirtan Ghar of Batadrava Than. All of these centuries-old woodcarvings were originally painted with Hengul-Haital and other traditional pigments through traditional method. Unfortunately, modern synthetic enamel paint was applied on the Garuda Pakhi and tha Hanumana woodcarvings in the southern Sologuri Satra side decades ago. This has happened due to a near extinction of the tradition of application of Hengul-Haital other traditional pigment, partly because of scarcity of the pigments and partly because of unavailability of the traditional painting experts.

The concept:

Restoration of the antique wooden sculptures at Batadrava are precious and their resoration is very important from archaeological and cultural points of views. On the other hand, growing awareness and interest of people about such antique traditions is a positive development in this respect as was noticed in a workshop on Sancipat and Hengul-Haital, catalyzed by Indian National Science Academy, recently organized by the coordinator at Tezpur University. Some practitioners of the Hengul-Haital traditions participating in the workshop expressed eagerness to revive the traditions. As the coordinator's group had been studying the traditional writing and painting technologies of medieval Assam including Hengul-Haital and other traditional pigments for some years. It was therefore decided to take up a venture to restore the original looks of these sculptures at Batadrava Than.

Accordingly, a proposal was submitted to Tezpur University on 8 November 2017 for funding under extension activity.

Title of proposed work:

Repainting of wooden sculptures of Batadrava Than, Batadrava, Nagaon, Assam, with Hengul, Haital and other traditional pigments for restoration of original antique look

Coordinator:	Prof Robin Kumar Dutta Department of Chemical Sciences Tezpur University
Co-coordinator:	Prof. Swapan Kumar Dolui Department of Chemical Sciences Tezpur University
Adviser:	Prof. Ranjit Kumar Dev Goswami Srimanta Sankaradeva Chair Professor & Head, Centre for Assamese Studies, Tezpur University

Expertise: The Coordinator (RKD) was experienced in dyes and traditional writing technologies of Assam which includes, the traditional herbal ink called Mahī, traditional tree-bark writing base called Sāncipāt and traditional mineral and herbal pigments like Hengul-Hāiāl. He had to his credit two Indian patents and over sixty research papers. He had been taking up several major projects funded by DST, CSIR, NCSTC and DRDO involving up to the tune of over rupees one crore. One of his recent papers published in Current Science has received wide interest including a highlight by the journal and a lead coverage in the Life page of The Hindu. The co-coordinator (SKD) had expertise in modern polymeric materials including synthetic and natural polymers, paints and adhesives. He has published about 200 research papers and taken up several major projects funded by DST, CSIR, Dept. of Electronics GoI, DRDO, etc. The Adviser (RKDG) is an expert in the Sankarī and Satrīā culture and traditions, to which traditional paintings of wooden sculptures and crafts, mural and miniature paintings is an important part.

Experts on traditional painters hailing from Satra's of Majuli and other places are also available for the work. Consent of participating in the work had been obtained from all these artists. As such the sculptures in the Kirtan Ghar of Sri Sri Batadrava Than does not come under the preview of Archaeological Survey of India. However, consent of Dr. Naren Kalita, General Secretary of Batadrava Than management Committee during 1990-1996 and an authority of ancient Assamese manuscripts and paintings, had been obtained as supervisor of the renovation work. A consent of Cooperation from Batadrava Than Management Committee was also obtained on 7 November 2017 regarding the proposed work. The Committee also offered to extend all cooperation and to provide accommodation to the artists at the Guest House of the Than free of cost.

Sub.: Restoration of original antique look of wooden sculptures of Sri Sri Batadrava Than

Dear Dr. Dutta,

It has been pleasing to know that an attempt has been initiated to restore the original antique look of wooden sculptures of Kirtan Ghar of Sri Sri Batadrava Than of Batadrava, Nagaon.

Sri Sri Batadrava Than has a central site of Assamese tradition and culture and is associated with memories of Srimanta Sankardev, the great Vaishnavite saint known for his contributions to Assamese society and culture.

I had an opportunity to discharge my service to this centre of Assamese tradition and culture as the General Secretary of Sri Sri Batadrava Than Management Committee for two consecutive terms during 1990-1996.

I have described the great wooden sculptures of the Kirtan Ghar of Sri Sri Batadrava Than in my monograph, entitled "Bordowar Shilpavastu". The original antique look of the wooden sculptures with traditional paintings with Hengul-Haital, Indigo and other traditional pigments have been destroyed partially by applying coating of varnish decades ago due to ignorance. Acrylic paint was also applied on the surface of one of them.

I feel that restoration of the original antique look of wooden sculptures will be a great work. In addition to imparting the appealing original look of the wooden sculptures of the Than, this venture will train some artists enabling them to take up similar works in other similar places.

It will be my pleasure to support the work with my expertise on the field especially for ensuring the artistic and antique characters of the sculptures during the restoration work.

I wish your venture a success.

Naren Kalita

Sincerely,

Picture: Consent letter received from Dr. Naren Kalita, an authority in traditional Woodcarving and illustrated manuscript of Assam, who was constantly guiding the team regarding protection of antiquity of the woodcarvings during the workshop.

Diary of Events:

(i) September 2017: During a private visit to Bordowa Kirtan Ghar on 29 September 2018, the coordinator and Sri Hari Narayan Kowar of Sologuri Satra of Bordowa discussed a possibility of repainting the dirty wood carvings of the Kirtan Ghar with Hengul-Haital in the original traditional way. Sri Kowar was very enthusiastic about it.

The cleaning work started on 23 December.

Painting work was started on 7 January 2018.

The cleaning work and preparation of the traditional pigments by grinding in traditional way was temporarily stopped after 11 January 2018 for Magh Bihu.

(vi) February 2018: The works resumed on 3 February 2018.

The work was stopped temporarily again from 22 February 2018 for Doul Utsav (Festival).

(vii) March 2018: The final art work with the traditional pigments by Sri Badal Das and Shri Dewan Singh (Both artists from Beseria, Tezpur) and La-Charowa (Application of a thin coat of Lac in traditional way) by Sri Niron Kotoki and Sri Prabin Borah (Both experts from Auniati Satra, Majuli) was started on 12 March and concluded on 14 March 2018.

Description of the Work Done:

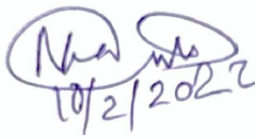

Preparatory Work: The priceless wood carvings of Kirtan Ghar of Botadrava Than in Nagaon district have been restored to their original look with Hengul-Haital and other traditional pigments in the traditional way in a unique step taken up by Tezpur University as a mark of its social responsibility during October 2017 to March 2018. The work, the first of its kind, was driven also by a broader idea of reviving the unique but dying tradition of painting wood carvings with Hengul-Haital in Assam. The largest of the wooden sculpture, a Gadur Pakhi , measuring about two meter tall and three meter wide painted with Hengul-Haital was dated 1833. Another similar but slightly smaller sculpture of Gadur Pakhi and two wooden sculptures of Hanumana were set up subsequently. Though all these wood carvings were initially painted with traditional pigments all of them became dirty and unattractive in the course of time. The older Gadur and one Hanuman were later painted with synthetic enamel paints too.

Conceived and coordinated by Prof. Robin Kumar Dutta, an expert in traditional dyes and pigments along with Prof. Swapan Kumar Dolui, an expert in adhesives and polymers, both from the Department of Chemical Sciences of Tezpur University. Dr. Naren Kalita, an expert in the traditional art forms of Assam, joined the Coordinator and the Co-coordinator in ensuring the sanctity of the traditional art aspect of the sculptures with periodic visit to the work site. The work has been facilitated by several members of Tezpur University community, especially, Prof. Ranjit Kumar Deva Goswami (Srimanta Sankardev Professor as an adviser), Prof. Madan Mohan Sarma (in the capacity of acting Vice-chancellor), Dr. Biren Das (Registrar) and Mr. Babul Talukdar (Finance Officer). A cordial cooperation was received from Atoi , the Head Bhakat and all others from the Than and the Management Committee of Batadrava Than, specially from Sri Devananda Dev Goswami and Sri Brajen Kakati, the Vice President and the General Secretary, respectively. The work of repainting the wood carvings with Hengul-Haital was catalyzed by a Research Project of Prof. Robin Kumar Dutta on “The science and technology of manuscript writing-aids and folk paintings in medieval Assam” sponsored by Indian National Science Academy and conceived as a result of a discussion of Prof. Dutta with Sri Kowar of Batadrava during a private visit to Batadrava Than.

Restoration Work: All together sixteen persons from various places of including Majuli, Nagaon, Tezpur and Tezpur University were involved in the cleaning, preparation of the paints by grinding and mixing with gum of elephant’s apple and water, application of the paints, the final art works and application of a final thin coat of natural sap (La Charowa) in three phases. The persons contributing to the work were:

1) Mr. Niron Kotoki, a Bhakat (monk) from Auniati Satra, District - Majuli, Assam. He is a practitioner of Hengul-Haital and Lā on handle of Satriya Bichani (a hand-fan made of cane with handle of betel-nut wood) and other wooden artifacts like wooden Sarāi and Āsanas. He also knows Lā-charowā (application of a thin coat of sap as finishing work on art work on wood).

2) Mr. Prabin Bora, a Bhakat (monk) from Auniati Satra, District - Majuli, Assam. He is a practitioner of Hengul-Haital and Lā on handle of Satriya Bichani (a hand-fan made of cane with handle of betel-nut wood) and other wooden artifacts like wooden Sarāi and Āsanas. He also knows Lā-charowā (application of a thin coat of sap as finishing work on art work on wood).

3) Mr. Chittaranjan Bora, Secretary, Kolong Kala Kendra, Puranigudam, District - Nagaon, Assam. He is a practitioner of the tradition of Sancipat Manuscript preparation where Hengul-Haital is also used to lay a coat on the writing base. He also makes mask using bamboo, clay, paints, etc., a tradition of Assam.

4) Mr. Hari Narayan Kowar form Batadrava, Nagaon. He is involved in making Sancipat manuscript and mask-making.

5) Mr. Badal Das, Da-Beseria, Tezpur. He is an expert in fine art.

6) Mr. Dewan Singh, Da-Beseria, Tezpur. He is an expert in fine art

7) Mr. Mridu Moucham Bora, Dhing, Nagaon. He is involved in making Sancipat manuscript.

The work was completed in three phases due to interruptions for festivals:

Phase I: A team of chemists, especially Sri Pinku Gogoi and Sri Rajkamal Mohan, project students of the coordinator, supervised the entire work starting from cleaning to ensure safety in handling the toxic pigments in addition to helping in the works throughout. Samples of the pigments at different stages have been collected for scientific analysis.
Phase II: Sri Chitta Ranjan Bora, Sri Mridu Moucham Bora from Nagaon joined the traditional artists from Auniati in painting the sculptures with the traditional paints prepared by them together with several others specially Sri Hari Narayan Kowar and Ujjal Jyoti Dev Goswami from Batadrava.
Phase III: Sri Niran Kotoki and Sri Prabin Bora from Auniati Satra, Majuli applied the final thin coat of sap on the sculptures after Sri Badal Das and Dewan Singh of Tezpur had done the final art works in the final phase.

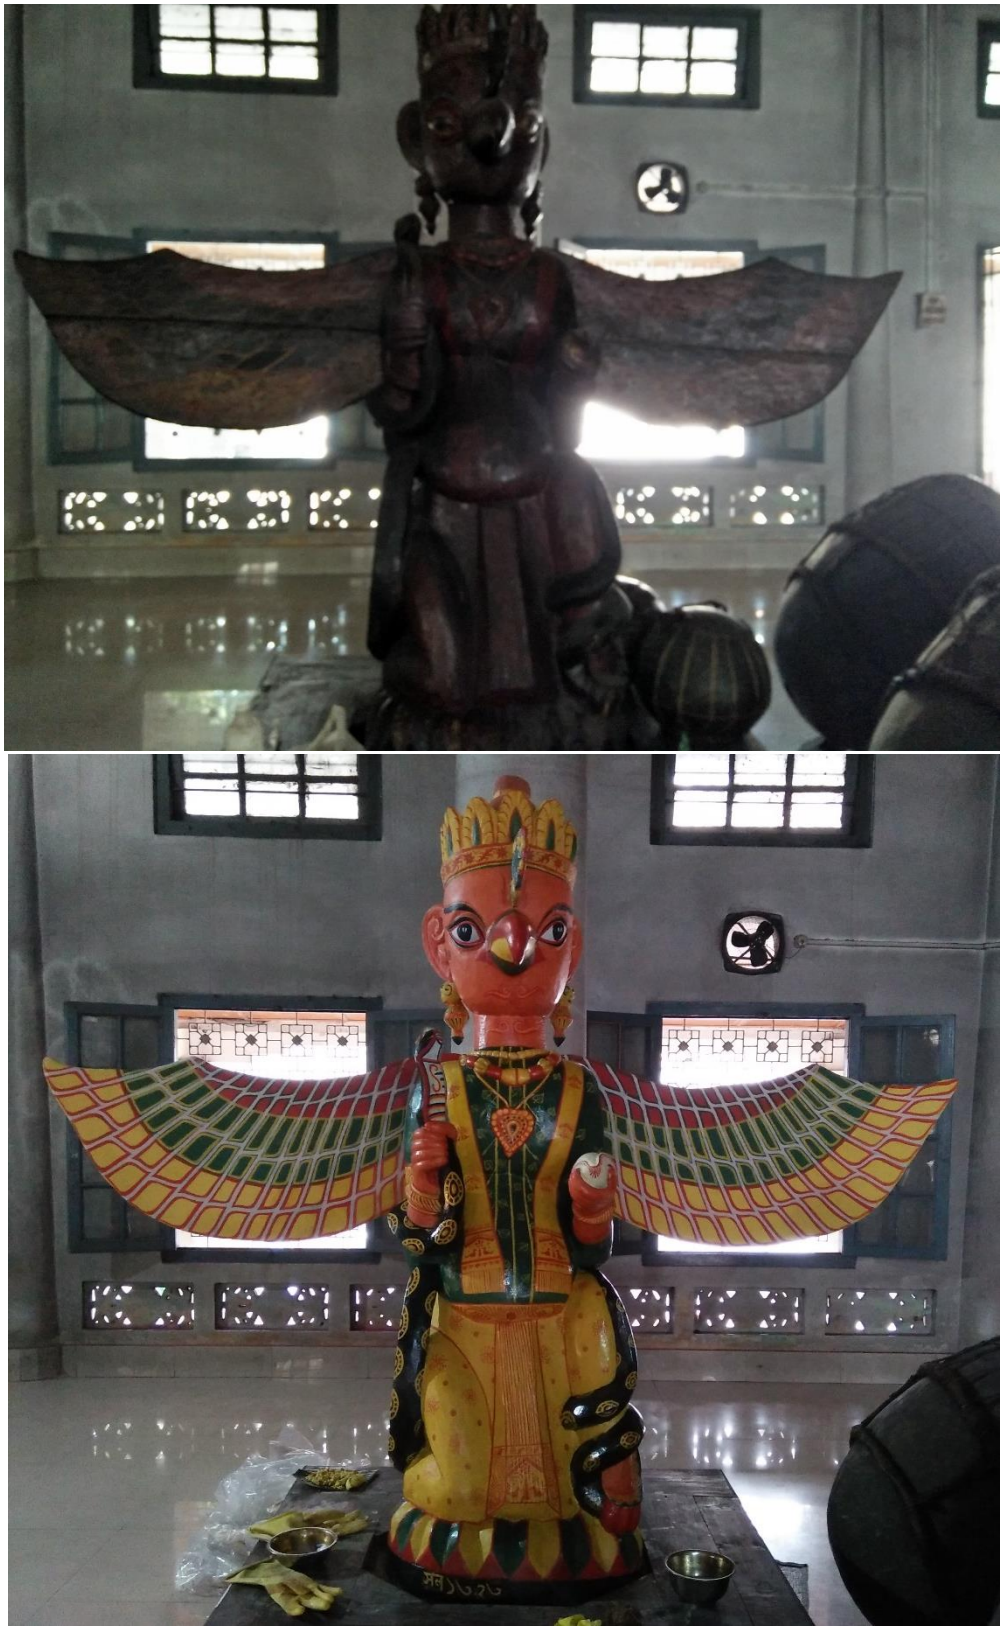

The pigments:

- The red and yellow colors have been made of Hingul and Haital, respectively. Hingul and Haital are mineral, also known as chinnabar and yellow orpiment, with chemical formula of HgS (mercuric sulfide) and As_2S_3 (arsenic sulfide). They are toxic and protect the woodcarvings from mites.

- Other shades were prepared by mixing these two pigments with Neel (Indigo, a natural dye) and Kharimati (a kind of clay) as was done traditionally.

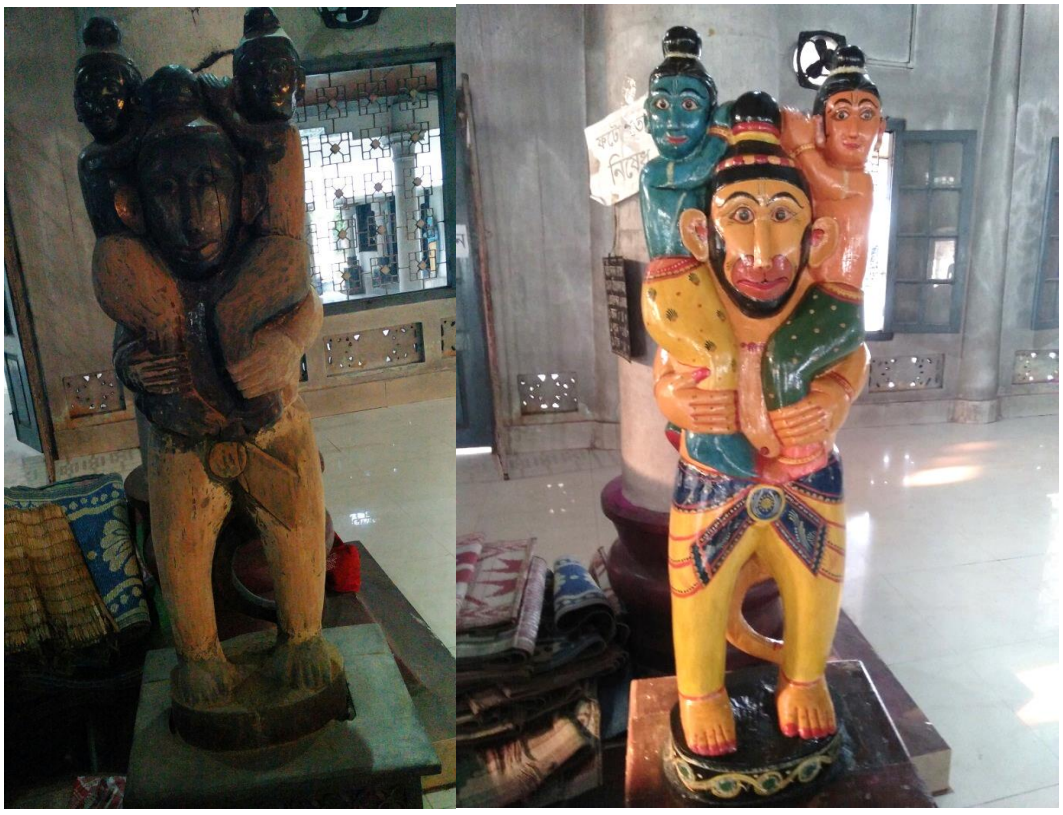

Picture: Garuda Pakhi of the southern Sologuri Satra side of Batadrava Than before and after restoration.

Picture: Garuda Pakhi of the northern Narowa Satra side of Batadrava Than before and after restoration.

Picture: Hanumana of the southern Sologuri Satra side of Batadrava Than before and after restoration.

Picture: Garuda Pakhi of the northern Narowa Satra side of Batadrava Than before (partially cleaned) and after restoration.

Interesting findings:

- Multiple layers of synthetic enamel paints were found on the Garuda Pakhi and Hanumana, which had to be removed completely. Though presence of a layer of Hengul-Haital paints was observed inside during removal of the outer enamel layers the Hengul-Haital layer also got removed along with the enamel layers and could not be retained.

- The Garuda Pakhi and Hanumana of the northern Narowa Satra side was not painted with synthetic modern paint. We wanted to leave after cleaning repairing for preserving the antique character but there were two reasons for which it was decided in consultation with Dr. Naren Kalita to repaint them with Hengul-Haital. Firstly, there were repeated request by the Than authority to repaint them as they looked too inferior compared to the other two which were repainted newly with Hengul-Haital. Secondly, the outer protective coating of La (sap, natural varnish) was removed during the cleaning exposing the toxic pigments.

- The art works were found to vary in the different layers.

- During cleaning, five nails including four in the left hand the thumb in the right hand and one complete finger in the left leg were found to be made of ivory which were hidden under enamel paints. The ivory parts are now beautifully visible under a protective layer of La (Sap).

- Some small portions of the sculptures and the pedestals were found to be damaged by mites, moister and natural warring which have been repaired using sawdust and gum before application of Hengul-Haital.

Picture: From right to left: Mr. Prabin Bora and Mr. Niron Kotoki, who took the pivotal role in Hengul-Haital painting with Mr. Rajkamal Mohan, Mr. Mridu Moucham Bora, Mr. Ujjal Jyoti Deva Goswami, Mr. Harinarayan Kowar, a care-taker of the Than, and Prof. Swapan K. Dolui after completion of the program. Prof. Robin K. Dutta was behind the camera.

Outcome:

- Some centuries-old woodcarvings have been restored in traditional way retaining their archaeological characteristics. The renovated woodcarvings with Hengul-Haital now seem to be another centre of attraction at the birthplace of Srimanta Sankardev.

- Most importantly, a trained team of traditional artists have been created during the process, who can now independently take up similar works of painting traditional woodcarvings with Hengul-Haital. This had been proven immediately after the TU-sponsored workshop as a group of artists from Batadrava, led by Mr Hari Narayan Kowar, who was trained in the traditional painting during the restoration work at Batadrava. They used the remaining traditional paints after the workshop which were provided by Tezpur University.

Introduction:

This workshop was an out-reach activity from Tezpur University with conducted by its Department of Chemical Sciences through an initiative of Prof. Robin Kumar Dutta, and his research group to help the society in a much-needed restoration of worn out valuable traditional woodcarvings and reviving a dying art form, namely, painting of woodcarvings with Hengul-Haital and other traditional pigments of early and medieval Assam. This is the second such program conducted with dual objectives of restoration of wearing out century-old woodcarvings with traditional Hengul-Haital paint and creation of a team of experts in the dying traditional painting. The work was done in the form of two workshops conducted in 2018 and 2019. The workshops were coordinated by Prof. Dutta on behalf of the Department of Chemical Sciences, Tezpur University.

The workshops were supported by Tezpur University and with a small amount by Mr. Hemanta Lahkar, a local entrepreneur from Tezpur. A total of 24 small and big waring out woodcarvings were restored with traditional Hengul-Haital paints. The work was done in two phases spread in two years:
Phase I: From 11th to 14 February 2019 at Boralimora Satra

Plase II: From 16th to 21th February 2020 (Six Days)
Day 1-5 (16-20 Feb 2020): Boralimora Satra, Tezpur, for a hands-on training workshop and Day 6 (21 Feb 2020): Tezpur University as the venue for a grand closing function on day six.
Four traditional artists, trained in Hengul-Haital in our previous similar workshop at Batadrava Than in 2017-18 and some new trainee artists completed the work with hard work

Phase I workshop during 11-14 Feb 2019 at Boralimora Satra:

Catalyzed by a History of Science Project sponsored by Indian National Science Academy (INSA) with Prof. Robin Kumar Dutta, along with his students and with financial support from the project and Mr. Hemanta Kumar Lahkar (Rs. 10,000/-), an entrepreneur from Tezpur, took up restoration of some antique woodcarvings at Boralimora Sattra, Da Parbatia, Tezpur in 2018-19 winter. A four-day workshop during 11-14 February was held for the purpose with partial funding from the INSA project and UGC-SAP fund of the Department of Chemical Sciences, Tezpur University.

The inaugural function was attended by Prof. Ashim Jyoti Thakur, Head, Department of Chemical Sciences, Tezpur University, Prof. Swapan Kumar Dolui and Dr. Utpal Borah also from the Department of Chemical Sciences, Tezpur University and local people from Boralimora Satra including the Satradhikar and the Deka Satradhikar. There were two experts from Auniati Satra, Mr. Prabin Bora and Mr. Niron Kotoki, both acquired their expertise in the tradition of Hengul-Haital painting during our previous workshop at Batadrava during 2017-2018. There were twelve local participants in the workshop which included two research scholars and ten local boys and girls.

It was planned in the workshop to restore a large life-size woodcarving of Garud Pakhi, a mythological hybrid human-bird, vehicle of God Vishnu and to small woodcarvings of ten incarnations of Vishnu and a head of man. We found Hengul-Haital painting on the surface of the large Garud Pakhi after removal of the enamel paints. Similarly, Hengul-Haital was also found on all ten small woodcarvings of the ten reincarnation of Vishnu and the head of man.

However, the work could not be completed as planned because the time was not enough for drying of the repairing of the large woodcarving and due to an error in painting of the small woodcarvings: The hollow inner part of the large Garud Pakhi was filled with thick paste of sawdust, a polyvinyl acetate-based adhesive and water. As the restoration work was planned for completion in four days, it did not get enough time to dry up. Still we did not have any problem in applying a traditional primer coating of Kharimati, prepared by mixing powder of Kharimati and water with stone apple gum as a binder, on the woodcarvings. But there was a problem in applying the Hengul-Haital paints on the Garud Pakhi. Dark patches, appeared on the painted portions which were not dried properly due to lack of time, which could not be covered even by repeated painting. So, it was decided to stop the painting on the afternoon of the fourth day of the 11-14 Feb 2019 workshop as incomplete.

We found original Hengul-Haital paints on the small woodcarvings of ten incarnations of Vishnu and the head of man also after cleaning. We considered retaining the original uncovered Hengul-Haital paints of these articles but finally decided to repaint with Hengul-Haital as the original paints were largely faded. There was no problem application of paints on them. But an error was made by an instruction by someone to paint all ten pieces with blue color alone referring to some description in the Bhagavata Purana. They were painted in blue alone accordingly at the last afternoon. This was against the principle of restoration as all these pieces were found to be originally painted with multiple Hengul-Haital colors. So, the blue color had to be removed from them which took some time.

Thus, it appeared almost impossible to complete the painting by the fourth and final day of the workshop and, finally, we decided to end the workshop as incomplete. However, enough work has been accomplished by then and the workshop has been considered as a good success.

Figure 4: The small woodcarvings of ten incarnations of Vishnu before and after removal of mud covers. The original multiple colors of Hengul-Haital painting is clearly seen in all ten woodcarvings.

The Background:

The restoration work started in the previous workshop at Boralimora Satra remained incomplete as we could not complete the painting part. This was because a large life-size woodcarving of a Garud Pakhi, A mythological bird with a mixed feature of bird and human said to be the vehicle of God Vishnu, was badly damaged by termite leaving the woodcarving almost hollow. This required filling with mixture of sawdust, polyvinyl acetate based adhesive and water. The woodcarving could not be dried well for completing painting during the workshop period. Moreover, there was an error in painting of ten small artifacts, the other small woodcarvings taken up for restoration, items representing ten mythological incarnations of God Vishnu about one-foot height each. This was caused by application of wrong color. Thus, the workshop ended inconclusively. The large woodcarving has now dried well. Therefore, it was planned to complete the restoration, in the form of a 6-Day workshop from 16 to 21 February 2020 along with hands on training of some participants, interested to learn the traditional art form, by some experts in the art form.

Aim of the workshop:

(ii) Preparation of a team of artists by hands on training on the tradition who can independently take up the work independently.

Objectives and their execution:

Selection of woodcarvings:

A total of 24 items of woodcarvings of various sizes including the Garud, Vishnu, ten reincarnations of Vishnu, Hanuman, manuscript boxes, lamp stand, manuscript reading stand, traditional spanning machine, beetle nut grinder, etc., were chosen.

The conditions in which the woodcarvings were found at the Satra can be seen in Figure 1. The large Garud Pakhi was greatly damaged by termite. It was almost hollow from inside and the from bottom to the top head portion. All other woodcarvings, except the manuscript boxes and the lampstands were covered by a thick coat of hardened dust due to exposure to dust for long time. While the manuscript boxes were relatively clean the lamp stands had a black oily coating thicker than the small woodcarvings.

These included the large Garud Pakhi, medium size Vishnu (two), Hanuman (two), small woodcarvings of ten reincarnations of God Vishnu, lampstand, etc. Woodcarvings without Hengul-Haital, partially damaged by termites were used as mounting of the roof of Namghar (a prayer hall).

Inauguration of the Workshop:

The inaugural session was conducted as scheduled with all five resource persons, 28 participants, about 20 guests and organizers from Tezpur University. Prof. Ruli Borah, HoD, Department of Chemical Sciences, TU inaugurated the workshop. Prof. Robin Kumar Dutta narrated the background and objectives of the workshop and introduced the resource persons. Others who spoke on the occasion were Prof. Swapan Kumar Dolui from the Department of Chemical Sciences, TU, who has always been actively associated with the work right from the beginning at Batadrava in 2017, Shri Khanindra Nath Goswami, Satradhikar, Boralimora Satra, Shri Subhan Mahanta, Deka-Satradhikar, Boralimora Satra, Shri Hemanta Kumar Lahkar, Entrepreneur, Tezpur, Mr. Chittaranjan Bora, Kolong Kala Kendra, Puranigudam and Mr. Hari Narayan Kowar, Batadrava.

Collection & Preparation of the traditional pigments and other ingredients:

Hengul (Cinnabar), Hiatal (Yellow Orpiment), and Kharimati (Kaolinite Clay), all mineral pigments and Neel (Indigo), an herbal pigment, were obtained from Kamakhya Bhandar, Nagaon. These raw solid minerals were preferred from the powders available in market due to purity concern. The solid miderals were crushed and grinded using stone mortars. Laa (Lac), spirit and polyvinyl acetate-based adhesive were obtained from a hardware store. Matured stone apples were collected locally from TU campus, and the gum was extracted from them.

Figure 6: Collection of natural gum from stone apple to mix with powdered pigments for preparation of traditional paints (left). Grinding of natural mineral Hengul (red) and Hiatal (yellow) pigments.

Training of participants by experts in the art during first 5 days at Baralimora Satra. The experts will be drawn from Majuli and Nagaon. Closing Ceremony on the 6th day at Tezpur University where the experts, the participants of the workshop and other people associated with and interested in the art form will be invited with an aim of promoting the dying art form and initiating. restoration of similar worn out woodcarvings existing in various Satras, Namghars and other places in Assam. We propose a gathering of 100 people in the Closing Ceremony.

Concluding Remark:

- There has been a great improvement in strength and look of the woodcarving after restoration.
- The participant and public response have been very enthusiastic.
- The program has created a large group of experts in the dying Hengul-Haital tradition capable of independent works. This have already been seen from independent works at different places, namely, at Lakuwa (Sivasagar district) by Mr. Indraneel Gayan and Mr. Ranjan Hazarika and Mr. Dipjyoti Gowala and at Borpeta by Mr. Diganta Narayan Kowar.

हिन्दुस्तान एक्सक्लूसिव

राज्य के ग्रामीण इलाके में जल्द ही आरओ से भी शुद्ध, पोषक तत्वों से भरपूर सस्ता पानी पीने को मिलेगा। यह पानी आर्सेनिक और लोहा से पूरी तरह मुक्त होगा। आर्सेनिक प्रभावित इलाके में यह पानी एक रुपये में 100 लीटर मिलेगा।

यह संभव होगा असम के तेजपुर विश्वविद्यालय के रसायन शास्त्र के प्रो. रॉबिन कुमार दत्ता के आर्सिरॉन निलोगॉन तकनीक से। प्रो. रॉबिन की इस तकनीक का परीक्षण राज्य के बक्सर जिले के सर्वाधिक आर्सेनिक प्रभावित ब्लॉक सिमरी और ब्रह्मपुर में हो चुका है। परीक्षण के दौरान एनआईटी पटना के विशेषज्ञ प्रो. सुब्रतो दास, स्वस्थ भारत प्रेरक मयंक जोशी, प्रो. दत्ता के सहयोगी सुजॉय चक्रवर्ती आदि मौजूद थे। बक्सर के डीएम राघवेंद्र सिंह की पहल पर पोषण अभियान के तहत प्रो. दत्ता की तकनीक का प्रदर्शन किया गया।

इसमें मौजूद लोगों को पानी से आर्सेनिक और आयरन निकालने के लिए आर्सिरॉन निलोगन तकनीक की जानकारी दी गई। घरों में इस्तेमाल होनेवाले खाने का सोडा, पौटैशियम परमैग्नेट और फेरिक क्लोराइड जैसे सस्ते रसायन का प्रयोग कर पानी को आर्सेनिक मुक्त किया जा सकता है। राष्ट्रीय पोषण मिशन के मयंक जोशी ने बताया कि बक्सर के अलावा आर्सेनिक प्रभावित अन्य जिलों के गांवों में भी इस विधि का प्रयोग होगा।

मिलेगा शुद्ध पानी

आर्सिरॉन निलोगॉन तकनीक से साफ होता पानी।

बक्सर के प्रभावित गांवों में लगेगी यूनिट : डीएम

बक्सर डीएम राघवेंद्र सिंह ने बताया कि शुद्ध पानी उपलब्ध कराने के लिए स्वास्थ्य मंत्रालय से 26 लाख जिले को दिया था। आर्सेनिक मुक्त पानी पर इनोवेटिव आइडिया के लिए जिले को यह पुरस्कार की राशि मिली थी। इस राशि से टाटा शुद्ध जैसे उपकरण खरीद कर कुछ प्रभावित गांवों में बांटे जा सकते थे, लेकिन कुछ नया करने के उद्देश्य से प्रो. रॉबिन दत्ता से संपर्क किया गया। इनकी तकनीक काफी सस्ती और आर्सेनिक को निकालने में प्रभावी है। तीन अक्टूबर को सिमरी और ब्रह्मपुर ब्लॉक में तकनीक का प्रदर्शन किया गया। एनआईटी के प्रोफेसर प्रो. सुब्रतो दास की मदद से जीविकाकर्मियों ने पानी साफ करने की 10-10 यूनिट तैयार की है। इसे आर्सेनिक प्रभावी गांवों में आंगनबाड़ी केंद्रों पर और सामुदायिक भवनों में लगाया जाएगा। इसके रखरखाव के लिए हर आंगनबाड़ी केंद्रों पर मास्टर ट्रेनर भी रखे जाएंगे।

क्या है आर्सिरॉन निलोगॉन : आर्सिरॉन निलोगन पानी से आर्सेनिक व आयरन (लोहा) निकालने का सबसे सस्ता और प्रभावी तकनीक है। इसे प्रो. रॉबिन कुमार दत्ता ने विकसित किया है। इसके लिए उन्हें भारत सरकार से पेटेंट मिल चुका है। यह 1000 पीपीबी जैसे उच्च आर्सेनिक वाले पानी को शुद्ध करके आर्सेनिक की मात्रा 2 पीपीबी से भी कम कर देता है। सस्ती होने के कारण इस तकनीक से ग्रामीण इलाके के गरीब से गरीब व्यक्ति को भी शुद्ध पानी पीने को मिल सकेगा। श्रीश्री रविशंकर समेत कई राष्ट्रीय-अंतरराष्ट्रीय संस्थाएं उनकी सराहना कर चुकी हैं।

Workshop on

Hengul-Haital Painting Tradition of Early Assam

Introduction: This workshop is an out-reach activity to help the society in a much-needed restoration of worn out valuable traditional woodcarvings and reviving a dying art form, namely, painting of woodcarvings with Hengul-Haital and other traditional pigments of early and medieval Assam. This is the third of a series of workshop started with support of Tezpur University in 2018 at Batadrava Satra as the venue, held again in 2019 at Boralimora Satra, Tezpur and this time at Boralimora Satra and Tezpur University.

Duration: From 16th to 21st February 2020.

Venues: Boralimora Satra as the venue for day 1-5 for a hands-on training workshop and Tezpur University as the venue for a grand closing function on day six.

Last date of application: 6 February 2020.

The Background of the present workshop: A research group of the convener of the workshop from the Department of Chemical Sciences had initiated restoration of some worn out and partially damaged valuable woodcarvings existing at Boralimora Satra, a small Vaisnavite institution near Tezpur town under a project sponsored by Indian Science Academy, New Delhi in 2018. The Department of Chemical Sciences also organized a small workshop to facilitate the work as a part of its extension activity in February 2019 under UGC-SAP program of the Department.
